An independent Arab political daily published by the Jordan Press Foundation جوردان تايمز يومي السياسية تصدر بالانجليزية عن المؤسسة الصحفية الأردنية ،الراي، U.N. plans points along Iraqi border

WUWAIT (AP) — Armed U.N. peacekeepers will set up checkpoints along the Kuwait-Iraq border to prevent weapons or soldiers from intering the demilitarised area, the commander of the U.N. force told the Kuwait News Agency Tuesday. Major General Krishna Thapa told the state-run agency that Bangladeshi soldiers would man these points and search all vehicles entering the area from both Kuwait and fraq. The zone was established along the 210-kilometre border after the Gulf war that ended a seven-month Iraqi occupation of Kuwait in February 1991. It extends 10 kilometres into southern Iraq and five kilometres into Kuwait. Until recently, the zone was monitored only by about 300 unarmed soldiers of the U.N. Iraq-Kuwait Observer Mission. The 791 Bangladeshi troops, armed with light weapons, started arriving in the past few weeks to beet up the U.N. force. Gen. Thapa said Kuwait has agreed to allow the peacekeepers to set up four crossings over a protective trench it has been building along the border with Iraq. KUNA said the five-metre-wide trench was 500 metres

Volume 18 Number 5504

AMMAN WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1994, RAGAB 23, 1414

Price: Jordan 150 Fils

King hopes PLO will rise up to its responsibilities

Clearly defined political course and coordination based on sincerity are needed Choice should reflect the conscience and aspirations of Palestinian people

AMMAN (J.T.) — His Majesty King Hussein said Tuesday that the present circumstances make it imperative that the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) choose a clear course of political action reflecting the aspirations of the

"I hope that the Palestinian leadership would rise up to the level of responsibility so that it will be able to fulfill its duty oused and its major role on the road towards fulfilling the Palestinian people's aspirations," the Lon King said in a speech to directors and senior officers from the Armed Forces, the Public Secrity, General Intelligence and Civil Defence depart-

> In his address at the Royal Court, King Hussein said that Jordan was seeking coordination with all Arab parties including the Palestinians with hopes to protect Arab interests and the interests of the Palestinians under Israeli occupation. The King also reiterated that future relations between Jordan and a would-be Palestinian entity would be determined after the Palestinians gained their right to exercise a free

He said the Kingdom did not harbour poilitical or territorial ambitions in the West Bank. The Monarch also stressed that Jordan would not sign a peace treaty with Israel before the other Arabs involved in the Middle East peace process reached agreements with

'We are for a comprehensive and just settlement that will include all Arab fronts," King Hussein said.

In a similar speech to military officials on Saturday, King Hussein warned that if the PLO did not revive coordination with Jordan by Tuesday, it will face the prospect of the two sides going separate ways. Palestinian officials said

PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat responded to the King's call and would dispatch a team led by the head of the PLO's political department, Farouk Kaddoumi, to Jordan on Wednes-

In his Tuesday speech, King Hussein said that lack of coordination with the PLO "will not only adversely affect

Jordanian interests, but will also undermine those of the

He said that the PLO was planning to extend the Tuesday deadline he set by "one or two days" and "I hope they will comply by that date."

King Hussein stressed the need to protect national unity and voiced pride in the Armed Forces and the security and intelligence personnel for shouldering their serious re-

Following are major excerpts from the speech: We will defend national unity with our lives and we will be keen on offering a unique example to others. I have said more than once that any party trying to tamper with national unity will be my enemy for ever. Despite the difficult circumstances and amidst questions about the present and the future, parliamentary elections were held in Jordan because we had decided and determined to proceed on the way which we believe is the ideal one and the pattern of life we chose for ourselves. We shoulder the responsibilities

We elected the clite to represent us in Parliament. Our democratic march is a true reflection of our belief in the importance of public participation in the decision-making process and shaping the future. We care for the human being, whom we entrust with our hopes for the future. We are determined to protect his together side by side.

In the recent past I have talked about the peace process to which we are committed provided it is to achieve a just and comprehensive settlement and would provide future generations a decent and free life in a stable and secure future. I have talked about this decisive stage, concentrating on coordination among Arab countries, starting with Jordanian-Palestinian coordination.

I have talked of my concern over the Palestinians in the occupied territories with whom we share their difficult life in their land.

This situation requires from the Palestinian leadership to choose and to define a clear course and we pray to God that their choice would reflect the feelings and the conscience of the Palestinian people.

I hope that the Palestinian leadership would rise to the level of responsibility to enable it to carry out its duty and its major role to serve the Palestinians towards fulfilling their aspirations and their full rights in the Palestinian homeland. We hope this leadership would truly represent the Palestinian people and be in constant touch with the people in the occupied lands so that this people can be reassured that they have reached the levels where it can be truly said that it is representative of all the Palestinian people.

As to the Jordanian-Palestinian relationship, we are pursuing a path set by our ancestors and we shared with them livelihood as one united people in Palestine and Jordan and we are pursuing this

At this stage, we must reach a situation with clearly defined features, one at which we would know our and their ights and responsibilities.

What is offered now is either they be strengthened by joining hands with us, and we are ready to offer them every support as we always did from the start, or the other alternative; there is no need for me to put it forth.

Concerning us in Jordan, once the issue is settled, and I hope it would be settled positively only then, the option would be offered to who would wish to stay with us or choose another path. However we would respect their wish. But until then we have to preserve our unity, safeguard democracy and human rights here as the beginning of a serious

This country would be an example for our brothers in the Arab World and for the Mus-

I have spoken about Jerusalem, which would remain in our minds and conscience for ever. I expressed my views about the seriousness of this stage and our concern for holy places there. We are afraid of losing contact with these places as a result of any eventuality or situation. We do not want to see a vacuum, as it happened after 1974.

As to Jerusalem and holy places, we have expressed our views and will continue to carry out our duty towards this Holy City.

I have spoken about confederation, I have requested the Palestinian leadership to drop this term. I would drop it too as of this moment not because I believe that the people here and in the West Bank are not our people, but because I believe that the people on both sides should have the final say in this matter.

Our relationship in the future should not be imposed by any side or group in the Palestinian arena or here.

The decision can be taken in the future after the people regain their land in an atmosphere of democracy and free-

We would be able then to meet on solid ground based on mutual trust in order to reflect the true image — that Jordan had always been supporting the Palestinians and that it had no ambitions but was fulfilling its duties as was done by the late Sharif Hussein and Abdullah Ben Al Hussein. Only then any formula would be the acceptable formula.

Our talk about this was aimed at helping the Palestinian leadership shoulder its responsibilities and enable the people to regain their rights. We will honour our commitment to the resolution of the

(Continued on page 5)

d the ∕hich

fter

Cabinet approves appointments

AMMAN (J.T.) — The Council of Ministers Tuesday approved several appointments involving senior posts. In a regular session presided over by Prime Minister Abdul Salam Majali, the Campet appointed Asem Ghibbeh as director general of the Department of Palestinian Affairs. Mrs. Ghosheh, who succeeds Adel Irsheid, to the post, was transferred from his post as advisor at the Royal

Mr. Scheid was appointed musistered the state when Prime Minister Majali reshufiled his government.

secretary-general of the Ministry of Energy and Mineral Resources prior to being moved to the Royal Another appointment Made Tuesday by the Cabinet was that of Dr. Ghassan Al Minfieh as secretary-general of the Ministry of Tourism and Antiquities, succeeding Nasn-Ataliah, who resigned as of Jan. 1 after holding the post for several years.

Di Mufleh worked at the University of Jordan and the Royal Scientific Society (RSS) as well as in the private

The Cabinet appointed Farah Al Hashem as director general of the National Aid Fund (NAF)

Mr. Hashem earlier served as inspector-general and advisor at the Ministry of Municipal and Rural Affairs and the Environment.

The Council of Ministers appointed Laurice Hlass as advisor at the Prime Ministry at a senior level. Previously she served as consultant at the Ministry of Tourism and

CBJ lifts ceiling on credits for exporters

AMMAN - The Central Bank of Jordan (CBJ) Tuesday announced the lifting of a ceiling on tresh credits that commercial banks could extend to exporters.

In a statement carried by the Jordan News Agency, Petra, CBJ Governor Mohammad Saced Al Nabulsi said the management of the commercial banks could determine the volume of fresh credits they could grant to exporters.

The move, Dr. Nabulsi explained, means that the credits that banks may extend to exporters are not bound by the general ceiling on fresh credits during the year as agreed by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in the economic restructuring prog-ramme under way in Jordan.

He said the move came as part of the government's efforts to encourage exports. and was adopted in light of "the positive changes witnessed in the monetary sector to conform to the CBI's tendency to have indirect controls over credits facilities through the use of new monetary means such as certificates of deposits in Jordanian di-

Another recent move by the government to encourage exporters was the exemption of up to 70 per cent of exporters' profits from income tax. Banking officials said they had received a CBJ circular informing of the relaxed credit regulations, which took effect as of Jan. 1, 1994. Dr. Nabulsi said the new regulations also replace earlier standing rules which restricted banks from extending .

In the context of credits for exporters known as packing credit in banking terms, the total amount extended should not exceed 90 per cent of the bank's reserves.

The general ceiling on fresh commercial credits set by the IMF for the year was JD 400 million — JD 335 million for the private sector and the rest for the public

But the ceiling was broken as a result of high demand the total of fresh commercial credit extended bit JD 360 million in the first seven months of the year --- prompting the CBJ to introduce a series of restrictive measures.

The measures included the limits related to capital and reserves of commercial banks and the banks' involvement

Mohammad Saced Nabulsi in trading in the Amman Financial Market.

Subsequently, the CBJ sought a higher ceiling and got IMF approval for another JD 60 million that could be extended during the last quarter of 1993 at a rate of JD 20 million per month. Banks which had already broken the ceiling were ex-cluded from the addition.

(Continued on page 5)

Rabin:Self-rule hurdles could be overcome in next few days Kaddoumi says proposals should be enhanced

TEL AVIV (Agencies) — Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin predicted Tuesday that Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) would resolve their latest political crisis in the "next few days" and resume talks on implementing Palestinian аціопопіч.

Foreign Minister Shimon Peres and Palestinian negotiator Nabil Shaath were in fax contact all day working out a compromise for restarting the talks, which stalled over control of border crossings, Israel Radio said.

"In everything linked to the proposal to resume talks in Tabaa ... this issue is being examined and will definitely be concluded in the next few days," Mr. Rabin told repor-

"We have an interest in continuing the talks, not at any price or under any condition, said Mr. Rabin, adding he thought the obstacles would be

Israel Radio said several political sources predicted that closing gaps and could allow low-level negotiations in the Egyptian Red Sea resort of Tabaa to resume next week. An Israeli negotiator said the talks could resume next week following a compromise offer made by the Palestinians. "I have every reason to think that the negotiations will resume next week" following proposals which had just been made by the PLO, said the official who requested anony-

The talks would take place in Taba, he said.

In Cairo PLO official Farouk Kaddoumi said Israel must make seven changes demanded by PLO leader Yasser Arafat to its proposals for launching Palestinian self-rule.

Farouk Kaddoumi, who serves as the organisation's foreign minister, was speaking to reporters after meeting Egyptian Foreign Minister Amr Musa.

"As Palestinians we felt that we had to insist on certain points," said Mr. Kaddoumi ring to seven amendments to a document drawn up by Israel at talks with the PLO here last week, he replied "exactly."

Israel has refused to resume negotiations on how to implement the Sept. 13 autonomy deal unless the Palestinians accept as the starting point a draft document which Mr. Peres said they had agreed to last Wednesday.

The draft covers joint control of border crossings from the Gaza Strip and Jericho, and sets the size of the Jericho area at about 60 square

The Palestinians denied there was any agreement, and Mr. Musa has backed them, saying there were several documents which were not final.

Negotiator Shaath wrote to his Israeli counterpart, General Amnon Shahak, on Friday saying Mr. Arafat wanted seven amendments to the Israeli proposals. Mr. Shaath did not reveal what they were.

(Continued on page 5)

Settlers move into Palestinian school

OCCUPIED JERUSALEM (Agencies) — Israeli settlers moved caravans overnight on to a site on the Mount of Olives where a Palestinian girls' school is being built, police said Tuesday.

The settlers brought seven caravans to the East Jerusalem site during darkness and intend to bring in five more.

Their rabbi Benni Eilon said: "We are not creating a new Jewish quarter in East Jerusalem but expanding Beit Orot Yeshiva."

The scholars erected a tent at the site last October but the then-mayor, Teddy Kollek, slapped a ban on further expansion. "We are pleased to note that the Jerusalem's new mayor, Ehud Olmert, is trying to apply his policies," said the rabbi. Israeli Radio said the settlers had the permits needed to install the caravans.

Thousands of Israeli worshippers prayed Monday at the western wall in Jerusalem's Old City for rain and at the same time against the Israeli-Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) self-rule accord in the occupied territories. Religious nationalists, ultraorthodox Jews and settlers came from all over the country gious authorities to pray for "divine mercy over the dangers set by the accord (with the PLO) against the survival of the Jewish people. The believers, who were protected by police forces sent to the area especially for the occasion, also asked God in their prayers to "let the rain fall" to put an end to the so far dry winter this year. The prayers, conducted by several senior rabbies, called for an end to the "violence against Jews" in the Israelioccupied territories. The pious also implored God to "pacify the heart" of Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin so that he would not implement the autonomy accord. In other developments - the army shot and arrested a Palestinian activist of the Islamic Resistance Movement, Hamas, in the Gaza Strip charged with the killing of two

Israeli soldiers, Palestinian sources said Tuesday. Mohammad Shbeir, 21, was ambushed in the town of Khan Yunes late Monday and shot in the leg, they said.

a ride were kidnapped and (Continued on page 5)

Two army reservists hitching

U.S. in contact with Middle East parties

WASHINGTON (USIA) — State Department spokesman Michael McCurry said Monday contacts were continuing between the parties on the implementation of the declaration of principles signed in September by Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO).

"We've had in recent days and weeks extensive contacts with the parties," Mr. McCurry said when he was asked if the United States was concerned about the apparent impasse in negotiations between Israel and the PLO, "We know that their contacts are con-

"We think it's essential that both the Israelis and the Palestinians remain focused on the main goal, which is after all the implementation of the declaration of principles," he said. "That is surely the best way to change the realities on the ground that both parties want to see addressed.

"What you are watching is a negotiation that's in progress that we are not a party to," the spokesman emphasised. "We are monitoring it very closely and will continue to monitor it very closely."

Mr. McCurry suggested the two sides were staking out positions and discussing things in the context of their own dialogue. "If we are mindful of that and remember that ultimately these talks are aimed at implementing the declaration, we'll be able to measure their progress as we watch the negotiations in the days ahead," he

The spokesman said the United States is "moving ahead" with plans for meetings in Washington later this month with the heads of the Syrian and Lebanese delegations to the bilateral peace talks which are expected to resume late this month or in early February. He termed the talks with the Syrian and Lebanese delegations "preconsultations" and said "we'll be exploring ways to move forward on those two tracks and then we'll be in touch with all the parties about resuming the overall discussions in Washington,"

The separate talks with the Syrian and Lebanese delegation leaders will focus on efforts to "reinvigorate" those two tracks and produce forward movement in their negotiations with Israel," he ex-

Israel expands Golan colony ahead of Syrian peace moves

Khaddam: Damascus turned down many Golan offers

OCCUPIED GOLAN HEIGHTS (Agencies) -Israel founded a new settlement on the occupied Golan Heights on Tuesday, less than two weeks before Syrian President Hafez Al Assad is due to discuss peace moves with U.S. President Bill Clinton in Geneva.

Housing Minister Binyamin Ben-Eliezer, who formally dedicated the expansion of the Golan town of Katzrin, rejected suggestions that the hundreds of new homes planned for the settlement would harm already stalled Middle East peace talks with Syria.

He said the new colony was part of a commitment made by Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin's government to all. Israelis.

"The government is obligated, above all else, to fulfilling its promise to all residents of Israel, to see to the security and well-being of their daily lives," he told reporters.

Washington, which sees renewed Israeli-Syrian talks as vital to an overall Middle East accord, has long viewed expanding Jewish settlements as an obstacle to progress in

But many of the Golan's 15,000 Jewish settlers, who share the Heights with 18,000 Druze Arabs, are members of Mr. Rabin's Labour Party and have mounted a nationwide campaign against "territorial concessions" to Damascus.

Mr. Ben-Eliezer, a former army general said once the talks resume, "the question will come whether we will give up anything and how much we will give up."

"As long as we don't get answers that guarantees our safety. I don't see any place for thinking about giving up the Golan Heights," he said.

Three Israelis stood nearby with placards declaring "peace with the Golan," a slogan used by the right-wing opposition to underline its determination to keep the Golan as part of Syrian Vice President Abdul Halim Khaddam said Tuesday in Damascus that Syria had refused many attempts to reach a solution over the Golan Heights and reiterated his country's call for a full Israeli pullout.

His comment was an apparent effort to boister Syria's position in advance of President Assad's Jan. 16 summit meeting in Geneva with President Clinton.

be crucial in reviving efforts to reach a settlement between Israel and Syria. Mr. Khaddam did not elabo-

The summit is expected to rate on the contents of the (Continued on page 5)

Middle East Watch castigates Algerian regime, opposition

By Elaine Ganley The Associated Press

PARIS - Middle East Watch, an independent human rights group, has published a scathing report on abuses in Algeria blaming both the government and armed Islamic groups while chastising Western nations for their silence.

On the verge of major gains towards democracy barely two years ago. Algeria "is now mired in a virtual civil war in which the rights of no one are inviolate and the democratic process has been all but abandoned," the U.S.-based group said.

Its report, "Human Rights Abuses in Algeria; No One is Spared," portrays the evolution of a system that disregards human rights in order to safeguard the country from Muslim fundamentalism.

"Sadly, the regime has done little in the field of human rights to distinguish itself from the... human rights disaster it claimed to be preventing," the report said. The report cites special anti-terrorism courts and press restrictions as major

sources of human rights It called on the militarybacked regime to void con-victions by the special courts. ensure fair trials, halt torture and stop prosecuting journal-

It called on the Islamic opposition to use all means to end violence and asked Western nations to link loans and aid to "tangible progress" in human rights and resuming the democratic process.

Nearly 400 people have been sentenced to death and 26 executions carried out in "grossly unfair trials," the Algeria "the highest number of judicial executions in 1993 politically motivated offenses of any country in the Arab World, Excepting Iraq."

Killings more than doubled over the past year, with civi-lians "from all walks of life," including intellectuals, journalists and foreigners among the victims, the report noted.

Middle East Watch said armed groups and the banned fundamentalist party, the Islamic Salvation Front. civilian deaths and failure to condemn killings.

Officials say about 2,000 people have died since parliamentary elections were cancelled in January 1992 to thwart a victory by the front. "Middle East Watch deplores the fact that (front) spokesmen have sought to justify the killings of some civilians and, to our know-ledge, have made no statements clearly condemning the targetting of civilians, the report said.

It said the banned party, whose leaders are in prison or exile, has "an obligation to promote respect for huma-nitarian principles" as long as it stakes a claim to political

The 67-page report pro-vides a detailed account of the special anti-terrorism courts, set up in September

These courts "fall far short of internationally recognised standards for a fair trial," Middle East Watch said. Anonymous judges, habitual detention beyond a new 12day limit, lack of access to lawyers or doctors, and de-nial of speedy trials all com-bine to deny defendants due DIOCESS.

The "broad and vague" definition of a terrorist or subversive act can include obstructing traffic in public thoroughfares, the report

It quoted lawyers as saying safeguards against extracting confession through force do not function in the special court system. Defendants are consistently denied medical exams to prove torture, it less than three years ago, Algeria's press was one of the Arab World's liveliest. It is now shackled, and "the pressure has come not only from the regime but also from those seeking to over-

The government continues to boast of a free press, but intimidates journalists with jail sentences, suspensions of their newspapers or manipulation of state-run enterprises on which papers depend, from printing facilities to advertising, the report

Journalists also are cowed by radicals suspected of geting the profession.

NEW COLONY: Israeli settlers Tuesday bring in caravans to the site of a Palestinian girls' school site in the Mount Jerusalem (AFP photo)

Aideed aide claims reconciliation talks amid rising Mogadishu tension

MOGADISHU (Agencies) — Somali warlord Mohammad Farrah Aideed is holding peace talks in Kenya with his rival factions and there are signs of progress, a top aide said on Issa Mohammad Siad, foreign affairs secretary for General Aideed's Somalia National Alliance (SNA), told Reuters the talks were between Gen. Aideed and representatives of the "group of 12," a coalition of factions headed by his main foe Ali Mahdi Mohammad, "There are positive signs,"

The talks were being held in secret sponsored by Kenyan President Daniel Arap Moi at his residence in Nakuro. 160 kilometres northwest of Nairo-

But Mr. Ali Mahdi told Reuters in Mogadishu the warring groups had not yet made any direct contact in Kenya.

"This morning I personally spoke with the chairman (of the group of 12) in Nairobi and can assure that there have been no talks," Mr. Ali Mahdi

However, he welcomed "this process of reconciliation with the SNA" and said he wanted to see it progress.

A Kenyan official said top government aides were mediating in "high-level consultations" between the feuding Somalis.
Talks between representatives of the SNA and the group of 12 collapsed in the Ethiopian capital of Addis Ababa in December, Foreign mediators compound when the jobs failed Since then Western governments have stepped up their troop withdrawals from Soma-lia, U.N. officials fear civil war

Aid groups quit

Two U.N. aid agencies evacuated their Mogadishu offices Monday after a way eof new attacks on humanitarian groups throughout Somalia. The U.N. Development Programme and the U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) emptied their shared compound two days after an unidentified attacker threw a molotov cocktail at a nearby building.

Benoit D'ansembourg. UNHCR field officer, said the incident might be relaxed to a dispute between the building's landlord and armed guards who used to work there. It may be "a kind of warning." he Tensions also rose Monday in other parts of the warwracked city.

Machine-gun fire could be heard near the line that divides the competing militias of south and north Mogadishu. And across town, outside the compound that serves as command centre for the 33,000 U.N. and U.S. troops in Somalia, Turkish guards backed by American soldiers faced off against a crowd of Somalis looking for work.

The crowd, which had heard rumours that U.N. jobs would be available, grew restless and.

to materialise. The Turks fired tear-gas before moving armoured personnel carriers and infantrymen into the

"All of us are jobless we're not politicians," said one of the Somalis present, 20year-old Hassan Ali.

Eventually, the situation settled down and the U.N. troops pulled back to their usuaal guard posts. No injuries were reported.

Somalis and U.N. officials alike are tense, waiting to see what happens after March 31, when the American and most other Western U.N. troops pull out.

Aid agencies, which often operate with armed Somali guards instead of U.N. military protection, have been targetted in a series of recent attacks.

Germans to protect pullout

Bonn is sending extra troops to Somalia to protect German soldiers when they leave the United Nations peacekeeping operation, a defence ministry spokesman said.

The spokesman said the move was part of Bonn's decision last month to withdraw from Somalia in tandem with American forces, and was not a reaction to clashes between Somali clans or attacks on U.N. troops.
The spokesman said 33 extra soldiers had already joined the 1,300-strong German contingent in the north Somali town of Belet Huen, some 300 kilometres north of Moga-

U.S. sees progress of exodus of Syrian Jews

WASHINGTON (R) — The United States said Monday Syria was keeping its promise to allow all Syrian Jews who wished to emigrate to do so and expressed optimism that the process would be completed within days.

State Department spokesman Michael McCurry said: We have seen very good progress on that and the progress is continuing. We expect that all those who wish to obtain travel documents will obtain them in the days ahead.

Syrian President Hafez Al Assad, who is to meet U.S. President Bill Clinton in Geneva Jan. 16, promised Secretary of State Warren Christopher last month that all Syrian Jews who wished to leave would be allowed to do so by the end of

He did not quite meet that deadline but a senior official said Washington was confident the pledge would be honoured well before the Clinton-Assad meeting.

"There has been ... a sizable number that have been granted exit visas and we would just reiterate that we would expect all those who wish to obtain travel documents to obtain them in the days ahead," Mr. McCurry said

About 850 Jews remained in Syria before the latest exodus began. American-Jewish groups reported last week that about 200 had been granted exit visas.

Some 200-300 Jews are expected to remain in Syria, either because they are old or in ill-health or because they do not want to leave. Most of the emigres have settled in the New York area were there is a Syrian-Jewish community of some 35,000.

Israel has long regarded the Syrian-Jewish issue as an important human rights question

Syrian-Israeli peace talks are expected to resume in Washington later this month. soon after the Clinton-Assad meeting. Mr. McCurry said Syrian and Lebanese envoys were expected in the United States later this week to prepare the negotiations.

On the separate Israeli-Palestinian talks, which have temporarily broken down, Mr. McCurry said the United States viewed their current difficulties as natural in tough

NEWS IN BRIEF

100 Iranians return home from Iraq

TEHRAN (AFP) — One hundred Iranians of Arab origin who were seized by Iraqi forces in the first months of the large way have returned home to Iran in the past rise. Iran-Iraq war have returned home to Iran in the past mine months, the official IRNA news agency reported. Quoting in informed sources in the southwestern province of Khuzestan two countries. But it did not specify how many had already held he the been repatriated. It said increasing numbers of Iranians went specific from Iraq through Khuzestan and that pennish the leavest of the interrogations." Most of the Iranian and the mecessary of the interrogations." Most of the Iranian and the mecessary of the interrogations." IRNA said some 5,000 Iranians of Arab origin were kidnen identification cards and needed accommodation, IRNA said adding that they were Arab nomads from the Dashtel an interact, vocation as a swell as educating as girls and women and women. Azadegan region near the Iraqi border.

an lineracy vocation

Ghannam, coordina.

and and telephysion program

wormenal education

4Fhelps

MEH (Petra) - Th

and Anti-Fond (N.A.F.) la.

ammed JD 322,428 i

minmanitarian assis

20 1000 families in th

Gremerate, accord

13 Deettor of the Social ramen department Ta Zed Maghairen.

calona mbar the frund ca

ra soal studies coveras

Smalles in the govern

and that 242 families

e was found in need as

satural for the cash lasses

promised by the fund

Yaqhaireh said that th

⊒Mapported 46 famili

denown businesse

inneant to 202 the nu:

or bankes who have :

saida existance to set:

📭 ncome-generat:

IBS to hold

MAX (Petra) — The Ins

a Banking. Studies w

a) panning contact 3.

en o Amman, Irbid a क त 1994 according

Monte's director Ade

Haddad, who w ang about the institut

ag plan for the year 100

the training progression the actual tra

took of banks, financ

and specialised c

it Haddad added that basespanded its its benefit the si

mman Financial M

brokers. Sor

*Corporation. Custo ament, Income (Ax ) momey exchange companies. Jon Oppose fund

pomed out the a spe

fice formed in accr

a decision by

board of direc

ised the necess

Guerrillas stage 85 operations

Tyre, Lebanon (AFP) - Guerrillas carried out 85 anti-Israeli operations in South Lebanon in December, in the larges administration of attacks for a single month since 1988, police and the larges of the content of attacks for a single month since 1988, police and the content of attacks which also less than two others were and in the content wounded in the attacks, which also less than South were larged in the attacks. wounded in the attacks, which also left three South Lebanon i should in the context Army (SLA) militiamen dead and hurt nine. Most of the context and special army (SLA) militiamen dead and hurt nine. Army (SLA) militiamen dead and hurt nine. Most of the sale panel. Palestine operations were claimed by the Iranian-backed Highest the sale panel. operations were claimed by the Iranian-backed Hizbollah. The Leanon Children pro-Syrian Amal said it was responsible for six attacks pro-Syrian Amal said it was responsible for six attacks and said said the Lintwood its combatants were killed. Three Hizbollah fighters and the Lintwood in an Israeli air raid on Dec. 28. Three Palassians (March Educational). were killed in an Israeli air raid on Dec. 28. Three Palestinians were shot dead by an Israeli patrol after they infiltrated northern Israel. The operation was claimed by the Palestinian group, Fatah-Intifada. Police, in the southern port of the palestinian group. said most of the attacks targetted SLA positions on the outskirts of Israel's self-declared "security zone." In addition outskirts of Israel's self-declared "security zone." In addition account for precar to using Katyusha rockets and mortars, the guerrillas also have a for precar to using Katyusha rockets and mortars, the guerrillas also used to an addition program Sager surface-to-surface missiles. Sager surface-to-surface missiles.

New Turkish-Cypriot regime takes office

Ghannam said the parti-Ghannam said the parti-falso called for conduct ANKARA (R) - The new Turkish-Cypriot coalition government formed after general elections held last month, took office Monday. Prime Minister Hakki Atun of the Democratic to determine the er of illiterate people in Party (DP) took over from outgoing Premier Dervis Eroglu of the National Unity Party (UBP) in a ceremony, it said. The coalition government of the DP and the Republican Turkish Party (CTP) of Deputy Prime Minister and State Minister Ozker Ozgur was approved on Saturday by Rauf Denktash president of the breakaway Turkish-Cypriot state. "With the coalition protocol, we have formed a healthy and long-lasting government," Mr. Atun told reporters after taking office. The UBP came first in the polls with 17 seats in the 50-member house but the opposition which had boycotted the heavily UBP-dominated parliament before the elections was not keep to join the coalition.

Iran smashes 'pornographic' film network

TEHRAN (AFP) - Iranian authorities have smashed : "pornographic" film production and distribution network in a village southeast of the capital, arresting and convicting the ringleaders, a newspaper reported. A court in Semnan village found the defendants guilty of being "corrupters on earth" for producing videotapes of "illegal sexual relations" and distributing them to young people, the Kayhan daily said. Such a verdict requires the death penalty under Islamic law, which has been in place since the 1979 Islamic Revolution. The paper gave no dates for the arrests or the trial, nor say how many were found guilty. Wealthier Iranians in major cities readily obtain American and European videos, and the Iranian press regularly reports discoveries of "depraved" material. Ayatollah Mohammad Yazdi, Iran's chief judge, said last year that those convicted of distributing illegal films should face the "maximum penalty" in order to "prevent the spread of destructive, anti-Islamic values."

Group calls on Iran to hand over suspects GENEVA (AFP) - A human rights group here called

Monday on Iran's U.N. envoy to hand over two Ira wanted in Switzerland on suspicion of murder, and whom France last week refused to extradite to its European neighbour." The International Fellowship of Reconciliation (IFOR) said Iran should return the men, who were reported to the Islamic Republic by France last week, if it wished to convince the world that it was not involved in international "terrorism." The pair, Mohsen Sharif Esfahani, 37, and Ahmad Taheri, 32, are suspected of involvement in the April 1990 murder near Geneva of Kazem Rajavi, brother of Massoud Rajavi, leader of the Mujahedeen, and armed group opposed to the Iranian government. In a message to Tehran's U.N. ambassador Sirus Nasseri, IFOR spokesman David Littman recalled that Iran's representative on the U.N. human rights sub-committee, Mustafa Alaee, said in August that his country was "ready to cooperate" for "further clarification" of the murder allegation.

'Turkish forces in Cyprus fired on'

ISTANBUL (R) — Turkish Cypriot officials reported to U.N. peacekeepers that positions of Turkish armed forces stationed in north Cyprus came under fire from the Greek side on Monday, the semi-official Anatolia agency said. There were no casualties. It said there rounds were fired around noon at Turkish forces stationed near the village of Madenlik across the green line, which divides the two sides. In the past two weeks Turkish Cypriots had alleged a number of shooting incidents by the Greek Cypriots.

Slovak minister meets Peres

TEL AVIV (AFP) - Slovak Foreign Minister Jozef Moravcik held talks with his Israeli counterpart Shimon Peres on reinforcing bilateral ties on arrival here Monday for a two-day visit. Mr. Moravcik and Mr. Peres discussed means of strengthening cooperation on economic, agricultural and scientific issues, officials said.

For senior PLO diplomat, visit home breaks ice with Israel By Said Ghazali logue by arms and will adopt While walking through the "guerrilla diplomat," moving visit that is to end Saturday or taken a nose dive. Sunday has been billed as a

The Associated Press

OCCUPIED JERUSALEM — There was something of the child in the most Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) figure to visit Israel and the occupied territories as he hounded into a wellknown pastry shop in Jerusalem's Old City for the first time in 25 years.

The owner recognised the man in the dark suit, crisp shirt and red tie as Afif Safieh, 43, the PLO representative in London, and gave him honey cakes for

But farther along Mr. Safieh looked a bit deflated in the maze of higher-priced fur shops and cafes in the Jewish quarter that replaced the Arab stores he remembered. It was, he said, a trip of

"immense joy and great Although the three-week PLO to tour the occupied territories and Israel openly. He has made it a charm offensive aimed at Israeli officialdom. Israeli politicians like Minister of Communications private one, Mr. Safieh is the most senior figure from the Shulamit Aloni, a leading dove, attended huge receptions Mr. Safieh gave at his mother's East Jerusalem home or visited as he held court. "We are in a situation of unavoidable coexistence. Mr. Safieh told his audiences He condemned violence that produces victims on both sides — a message the Israeli government is always seeking from top PLO officials to help with the audience at home.

His talks were sprinkled with sayings: For example, that Arabs and Israelis should abandon "the dia-, hopefully the arms of dia-himself to the occupied territories, but also visited parts of Israel. His mother said the two drove through Tel Aviv. Safed, Acre and Tiberias. She said he turned down an invitation to go to Israel's parliament and other official places, stressing that the visit was private.

Mr. Safieh even ventured into extremely hostile territory - the Jewish neighbourhoods that ring Jerusalem.

bourhoods to anchor its claim to the entire city. The PLO wants the eastern half of Jerusalem as the capital of its would-be state, even though settlements have tipped the population balance there to 160,000 Jews vs. 155,000

The final status of the city is not to be negotiated until talks scheduled to start by been postponed indefinitely snagged on disagreements over control of border crossings, the size of Jericho and clashes since the agreement was signed Sept. 13 reaching 50 Palestinians and 20 Israelis, public support has

Civil Defence Department ..... 661111 Civil Defence Immediate

Croi Defence Immediate
Rescue — 630341
Croil Defence Emergency — 199
Rescue Police — 192, 621111, 637777
Fire Brigade — 891228
Blood Bank — 775121
Highway Police — 843402
Traffic Police — 894,300
Public Securit Department — 63000
Price Complaints — 60500
Price Complaints — 66174
Water and Sewerage

787111

.... 623101

Telephone Information

(directory assistance) ..... Overseas Calls .....

Central Ammon Telephone

Radan Jordan ..... . ....

Abdalı Telephone Repairs ..... 661101

Israeli officials made encouraging noises about Mr. "When the average Israeli sees Palestinian middle-class people and hears them talking, he will no longer carry the same fears and stereotypes he has from watching a hooded Hamas activist shooting a gun," said David Kreizelman, deputy director of the government press office.

Jerusalem, where his family can trace its ancestors for hundreds of years, but was denied citizenship because he had not been there when Israel took its first census after seizing the eastern half from one country to another in Europe and the Middle He was not involved in any violence during the bloody years of the conflict between Israel and the Palestinians. He married a Belgian woman and his two daugh-ters, Diana, 10, and Randa, have yet to learn Arabic.

 Although he expressed interest in visiting his family's pre-1948 home in the Bekaa area of Jerusalem, now a chic Israeli neighbourhood, Mr. Safich said he believed making the peace work requires forgetting all that. He said the ultimate goal should be a two-state solu-tion, but for the moment the most important thing was to end the diaspora of people like himself. "It is time for Palestinians to have family reunions in

than on the east coast of the

FOR THE TRAVELLER

United States," he said.

Arab cities like ... Hebron, Jerusalem or Gaza rather

...... Cairo (MS)

Abu Dhabi, Doha (GF

14:35 ...... Karachi, Abu Dhabi (PI) DEPARTURES

Royal Jordanian (RJ) Flights (Terminal 1)

€0:36	Aqaba (
87:30	Rome
10:15	Amsterdam, New York
10-30	August mand 16th
15-30	Berlin, London (
14:41	Romc (
11:00	ere
11:10	Tunis, Casabianca (
19:30	Colombo
19:45	· ······ Colombo (
7443	Сыго
AP 100	Disculte o
24:20	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
29:36	····· Aden (
28-44	· ······ Aqaba (
71.30
21130	Calcutta, Bangkok (
22:45	Sanaa (
Other	Flights (Terminal)
₹ 2 255	· · · · · · · · Berrut, Paris (,
6 6-75

~~	Benut, Pans (AF
k25	Beitut (ME
:30	Sanga (IY Jeddah (SU Ahu Dhah (GF
·:45	Abu Dhahr, Karachi (Pl

HUAZ RAILWAY TRAIL

MARKET PRICES Upper/lower price in fils per kg.

)	Apple	700
)	Banana
)	Banana (Mukammər)
	BCans	600 l
}	Cabhage	80
)	Carrot	240
١ .	Cauliflower	180
)	Clementine	28D /
•	Cucumbers (large)	150/
i	Cucumbers (large)	790 /
3	Eggplant	ממר
;	Garlic	200
j	Comp. C:	,, 700
	Grape Fruit	, 150
}	Lemon	. 150 /
	Marrow (large)	100
	Marrow (small)	. 220/
	Orange	380/
)	Onion (dry)	19da /
١	Onion (onnes)	770
1	Persona (h-a)	- 760 I
i	Onion (green) Pepper (hot) Pepper (sweet)
′	repper (sweet)	- 40
	r Diato	2008
}	H30mh	15%
)	Tomate	2/0

. Frankfurt, Vienna (RJ

......... Toronio, Montreal (RJ)

Sports N.B.A. News in French Le Journal De L'Histoire News in Hebrew News in Arabic 20:30 Too Close for Comfort 21:19 Panorama 22:90 News in English 22:20 Film "Till Murder Do Us Part"

JORDAN TELEVISION

Tel: 773111-19

PRAYER TIMES

CHURCHES St. Mary of Nazareth Church Sweifiels, Tel. 810740 iblies of God Charch, Tel. 632785 St. Joseph Church Tcl. 624590. Church of the Annuclation Tel.

De la Saile Church Tel. 661757 Terrasancia Church Tel: 622366

Clearch Tel. 630851, Tel. Areacii 771331. Orthodex Church Tci. Arment 775261. m Church Tcl. 771751. 652526. Evangelical Latherne Church Tel: 824328. German-speaking Evangelical Congregation Tel; 684195
The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints Tel. 654932

WEATHER

esc Tcl.675691.

Bulletin supplied by the Department of

It will be partly cloudy and winds will be westerly active. In Aquba, it will be partly cloudy, winds will be northerly moderate and seas calm.

..... 12 /22 ...... 6/11 Yesterday's high temperatures: Amman 10, Aqaba 20, Humidity readings: Amman 99 per cent, Aqaba 46 per Israel planned these neigh-

1996

USEFUL TELEPHONE

NUMBERS

NIGHT DUTY

Dr. Mohammad Al Zu Tvr ....... (---)

Al Quds pharmacy ..... (--)

Dr. Yousef Harzallah ........... 989075 Khalifeh pharmacy ............ 985417

EMERGENCIES

Food Control Centre ...... ... 637111

778336

636730

. 644945 . 637660

623672

AMMAN:

Dr. Nasser Ibrahim

Al Asema pharmacy.

acout pharmacy .... Ameisani pharmacy

Najih pharmacy .

Pisgat Zeev development in East Jerusalem, Mr. Safich logue." Mr. Safieh did not restrict avoided confrontation with an Israeli construction worker who heckled him. When the man yelled. "Palestinians will never get any part of Jerusalem" Mr. Safieh moved away, curtly wishing him good day. With no progress in im-plementing the peace plan, visits like his are the only visible result of the peace process. The original timetable of starting the withdrawal of Israeli forces from the Gaza Strip and West Bank town of Jericho in December has Implementation talks are security arrangements.

With the death toll in

Mr. Safieh left Jerusalem

in 1966 for Belgium as an 18-year-old student studying political science. Two years later he visited of the city in June 1967.

and France and then as a

Forced abroad, Mr. Safieh joined the PLO, first as a student leader in Belgium

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR

HOSPITALS

MMAN:
lussein Medical Centre	813813/
halidi Maternity, J. Amn.
kilch Maternity, J. Amn.
shal Amman Maternity
falhas. J. Amman alestine, Shmeisani hmersani Hospital
Iniversity Hospital
l-Mussice Hospital
he Islamic, Abdalı	6/6127/
I-Ahli, Ahdali
alian, Al-Muhairsen
I-Bashir, J. Ashrafich
rmy.9Marka
rucco Alia Hospital
mal Hospital	6741

ZARQA; Zarqa Govi, Hospital .... (09)983323 Zarqa National Hospital ... (09)980560 (09)98732 (09)98732 ZARQA: I'nn Sina Herspital ....... Al Hikma Modern Hospital Princess Basma Hospital Greck Catholic Hospital Ibn Al Naices Hospital ... (02)272275 (02)247100 .

Proncess I faya Hospital . .. .. ... (03)314111

QUEEN ALIA INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT This information is supplied by Royal Jordanian (RJ) information department at the Oueen Alla International Airport Tel. (08)53200-5, where it should always be verified. ARRIVALS Royal Jordanian (RJ) Flights (Terminal 1) Agaha (RI)

Duhai, Abu Dhabi (RI)
Addah (RI)
Laftaca (RI) ... New York, Amsterdam (RJ) ... Istanbul (RJ) .. Madrid, Geneva (RJ)

23:45 Other Flights (Terminal 2)

transform the insti pecalised univer Haddad said ano anker and academ distribution of the control of the c monts in the we institute's trai

and the light of t imernational

Conference tackles education issues

AMMAN (Petra) - An eduthat a cational conference held by the United Nations Educational Bureau in the Arab States (UNEDBAS) at the Jesuite University in Beirut discussed issues related to early childhood and elementary education, adult illiteracy, vocational training, as well as educating the in the Arab World. Maha Ghannam, coordinator of the charity societies in the Israel-occupied West Bank who participated in the conference, said experts and specialiss from Lebanon, Palestine, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) and the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO) participated ions t in the conference. She said they stressed the need to support vocational training programmes and called for preparing radio and television programmes to direct people towards vocational education

> Ms. Ghannam said the participants also called for conducting a census to determine the number of illiterate people in the Arab World.

NAF helps, 1,006 families in 1993

Délugi.

broth

ust that!

fication

∍k side

There of

nlik act

e past P

f shoot

RICES

TAFILEH (Petra) - The nnant: National Aid Fund (NAF) last year granted JD 322,428 in cash and humanitarian assistsaid & ance to 1,006 families in the lau i Tafileh Governorate, according to Director of the Social Development department in Tafileh Zeid Maghaireh. He pointed out that the fund carried out social studies covering 354 families in the governo-rate, and that 242 families of thee were found in need and considered for the cash assistance provided by the fund.

Mr. Maghaireh said that the fund had supported 46 families to set up their own businesses. thus bringing to 202 the num-ber of families who have received cash assistance to set up condia their own income-generating

in the A BS to hold 65 courses in 1993 nan De I N. hans

AMMAN (Petra) — The Institute of Banking Studies will hold 65 training courses and seminars in Amman, Irbid and Agaba in 1994, according to ed to U the institute's director Adeeb s station Haddad,.

> Dr. Haddad, who was speaking about the institute's training plan for the year 1994, said the training programme was based on the actual training needs of banks, financial institutions and specialised credit corporations.

Dr. Haddad added that the institute has expanded its training services to benefit the staff of the Amman Financial Market, financial brokers, Social Security Corporation, Customs Department, Income tAx Department, money exchangers, insurance companies, Jordan Investment Corporation and the Orphans fund.

He pointed out tht a special committee, formed in accordance with a decision by the institute's board of directors has finalised the necessary steps to transform the institute into a specialised university college, offering a bachelor degree in financial and banking

Dr. Haddad said another committee, grouping prominent bankers and academics, was formed to look into existing training materials and develop their strategy to cope with the financial and banking developments in the world. The committee will also draw up the institute's training strategies,

Dr. Haddad said the institute held 66 training courses, attended by 1,015, during the year 1993.

The IBS was established in 1970 as an international university college offering a middie diploma in banking and financial science. So far, a total of 885 people have graduated from the institute.

Minister of Industry and Trade Rima Khalaf Tuesday holds talks with a Canadian delegation headed by Ontario Premier Bob Rae on economic and trade ties

Khalaf, Ontario minister discussed ties; businessmen want a fair balance of trade

AMMAN (J.T.) - The premier of the Canadian state of Ontario, Bob Rae Tuesday held talks with Minister of Industry and Trade Rima Khalaf and said that Canada wishes to further boost economic and trade ties with Jordan.

Mr. Rae, who arrived earlier Tuesday at the head of a delegtion on a several-day visit to Jordan, also said that his country would like to found its ties with Jordan on sound basis.

Praising the Jordanian leadership's role in contributing to the Middle East region's stability, Mr. Rae said that Canada would like to see stronger economic ties.

Both the minister and Mr. Rae emphasised the need for developed economic relations and underlined the role of the private sector in boosting the exchange of trade between the two sides and launching joint investment schemes.

Dr. Khalaf said Jordan encourages foreign investments in Jordan, at any level and in different forms, noting that the Kingdom was taking measures towards encourging investments and opening the way for more investors.

She said the new laws or amendments to existing laws would cater to the requirements, of new investments in Jordan.

The minister outlined the current economic and trade situation, pointing out that the whole region remains unstable due to the political developments and the refugee prob-

Both sides noted that Jordan could serve as a spring board for Canada in the region.

Canada's ambassador to Jordan Andrew Robinson was among the audience which grouped the Canadian delegtion and senior ministry offi-

Meanwhile, the Jordanian Businessmen Association (JBA), which is hosting a meeting with Mr. Rae at the Regency Hotel Wednesday, issued a statement on the eve of his visit in which it noted that Jordan's trade with Canada as a whole was very negligible compared to Jordan's trade with the rest of the world.

The statement said that while Jordan's exports to Canada in 1991 stood at JD 94,700, it dropped to JD 20,700 in 1992, while its imports were worth JD 15,824,200 and JD 10,374,100 respectively.

Noting that trade with Canada could be promoted through the Jordan-Canada Business Council, established in 1993, the statement said that the adverse balance of trade on Jordan's side should be negotiated with Canadian officials.

The JBA, said comprehensive discussions and dialogues should be conducted in order to conclude fruitful results, as Jordan can be an important trade partner to Canada at both bilateral and regional

Robbers seem to find railway beams a rare commodity

By Rana Husseini Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — Ma'an police Monday aborted a robbery of wooden railway beams in Baten Al Ghoul area, in Al Mondawara, according to a police report.

Three people aged 29, 25 and 16 were arrested by police while attempting to dismantle the beams by using gas and oxygen.

Police reports indicate that it took the three men more than five hours to pull the wooden beams before they were discovered by police.

An official at the Ma'an Railway Station told the Jordan Times that this is the first time in ten years that someone tries to steal these wooden beams.

The official said the reason someone might think of stealing these beams is their value in the market.

"This kind of wood is very expensive because it is made to withhold all kinds of weather conditions and it does not absorb water." he

The official said the people who tried to steal the wood wanted to use it for building

"People who thought of doing it probably want to use them to build a farm fence or to use them for building a house because they are as solid as metal," he added.

This kind of wood is very expensive because it is imported to the Kingdom, he added. Post office robbed

Irbid police are searching for thief/ves who broke into Hrema post office, in Irbid, and escaped with JD 76. Monday, according to a police report.

The post office director,

WHAT'S GOING ON

The following listings are compiled from monthly bulletins and the daily Arabic press. Readers are advised to verify the listed time and place with the concerned institutions.

EXHIBITIONS

- Art exhibition by Sudanese artist / bdul Qadir Al Bakhit at the Royal Cultural Centre.
- ☆ Art exhibition by artist Sadik Kwaish entitled "Talisma" at Baladna Art Gallery.
- Art exhibition by Jordanian artist Suha Mash'al at the Royal Cultural Centre.
- Art exhibition by Iraqi artist Abdul Jabbar Salman on bedouin culture at the Royal Cultural Centre.
- ☆ Exhibition on the 100th anniversary of the death of French novelist Guy De Maupassant at the French Cultural Centre.
- * Exhibition of Iraqi books at the Royal Cultural Centre.
- Art exhibition by a number of Jordanian artists entitled "The Sixth Exhibition — Samples From The Contemporary Jordanian Art 93" at the Spanish Cultural Centre.
- ★ Exhibition "Prints and Drawings of Fakhrelnissa Zeid" (1915-1991) until the 15th of January '94 at Darat al Funua of the Abdul Hameed Shoman Foundation. Also showing the "Permanent" Exhibition. (Tel. 643251/2).

DRAMA

☆ Drama for children entitled "The Question" at the Royal Cultural Centre at 11:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

 $\Rightarrow$  A one-hour programme featuring a condensation of the most popular games of the week with play-by-play announcement at the American Center at 5:00 p.m.

SEMINAR

☼ Open seminar on working women and the Jordanian work project with the participation of Ms. Itaf Halasa, from the Ministry of Labour, and Ms. Asma Khader at the Phoenix Gallery for Art and Culture at 6:00 p.m.

Mohammad Rifai, disco vered the robbery when he went to work in the morning. Mr. Rifai told police when he opened the door he found papers scattered on the floor, the door of the safe broken and the money missing. Preliminary investigations by police indicate that the robber/s was/were able to break one of the windows, then used a sharp object to pry open the safe.

According to the report, the only thing missing was the money. Police are investigating the case.

Body found

The body of a 53-year-old man was discovered Monday by Al Hashemi Al Janoubi

The victim, identified by police as A.M.B., was discovered in a deserted house in the Hashemi Al Janoubi

A forensic doctor who examined the body attributed the death to several knife stabbs to the neck and stomach. Police are investigating the murder.

Rat gnaws child's toe

A two and a half-month-old Mafraq girl lost a piece of her right toe when a rat attacked

I.N. was in her family's house sleeping when a rat chewed at her toe and fingers, according to a nurse at Mafraq Military Hospital.

"The girl is in good condition now, and we gave her the necessary vaccinations so she doesn't get infected," the

"The girl will stay in the hospital until she is completely cured," she added. A Mafraq resident told the Jordan Times that the community has been plagued by rats which, he said, walk freely in the street.

"Rats are scattered in our houses and streets, and it is a problem we have been suffering from for a long time," he

The Mafraq community is not the only one that suffers: Ramtha and some refugee camps east of Irbid have had extensive material losses, due to rats too.

"The problem is that garbage is disposed close to our community and that is a good place for rats to live on and attack us from," the Mafraq resident said.

Officials deny ban on entry of Gaza produce in Jordan

By a Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — Senior officials Wednesday dismissed as baseless an Israel Radio report that Jordan has banned the flow of agricultural produce from the Gaza Strip through the Kingdom.

"The report is totally baseless and unfounded," said Wahib Hussein, head of the agriculture section at the Department of Palestinian Affairs.

The flow of Palestinian agricultural produce through Jordan for exports continues unimpeded and "no such ban reported by the Israeli media has been adopted by Jordan," Mr. Hussein told the Jordan Times.

Mr. Hussein as well as other officials described the report as Israeli propaganda aimed at creating trouble between Jordan and the Palesti-

According to the Israeli report, the purported ban was imposed because Jordan was upset with the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) for its lack of political coordination with the Officials laughed off the

"It is another link in the chain of the Israeli-orchestrated campaign to poison the atmosphere between Jordan and the PLO and the Palestinians in the occupied territories," said a senior official, who preferred anonymity.

"There is a political decision to support the Palestinians living in the occupied territories to the best of Jordan's abilities, and there is no logic in suggesting that we are adopting moves contrary to that decision," added the official.

Ministry of Agriculture officials said routine permissions had already been issued, allowing fruits and vegetables from the Gaza Strip to enter Jordan in transit for export purposes be-tween Jan. 1 and April 30, 1994, and that West Bank produce could enter Jordan without restraints except those in place to protect local

As a rule, West Bank produce is allowed into Jordan for exports as well as to make up for the shortfalls in local production depending on season, the officials said.

There have been 2 few occasions when Jordan had no choice but to block the entry of certain products because Israelis tried to "speak in" their products disguised as Palestinian products, the officials said, noting that allowing such items to enter Jordan would be in violation of the Arab boycott of Israel.

Jordan imports around $30 million worth of Palestinian products every year, including fruits and vegetables. meat products and olive oil as well as building stones, and does not impose any customs on them, considering the imports as internal trade.

Nearly 12,000 tonnes of fruits and vegetables from the West Bank and nearly 3,000 tonnes from the Gaza Strip entered Jordan during 1993, according to official figures. The bulk of the produce was destined for the Gulf states.

Isreal does not allow the export of Jordanian products to the occupied territories.

Trade between Jordan and the occupied territories has been an issue under discussion at varying forums and stages among three main par-ties involved — Jordan, the Palestinians and Israel — in the 26-month-old Middle East peace process.

But no definite agreement has been reached since Israel has been trying to maintain the occupied territories as a protected market for its own products while seeking to impose ceilings, tariffs and levies on non-Israeli products, officials say.

Cabinet briefed on Qatari, Egyptian ministers' visits; Majali urges field trips by ministers to governorates

AMMAN (Petra) - The Cabinet Tuesday reviewed the outcome of a visit to Jordan this week by Sheikh Ben Jassem Al Thani, Qatar's foreign minister, in the light of a report submitted to the council by Minister of State for Foreign Affairs Talal Al Hassan.

Agreement was reached with the Oatari minister on the formation of a joint committee to discuss in detail ways of promoting bilateral cooperation in economic, political, informational and investment fields, as well as cooperation between the private sectors in the two countries, according to Mr. Al Hassan.

He said that Qatar and Jordan decided to reactivate television programme exchanges, tween their respective national news agencies and to also set up a higher joint council to look into future joint invest-

Mr. Al Hassan said that the two sides agreed on the need to stimulate the exchange of trade, expertise and manpower in education, petroleum industries and medical services.

The joint Jordanian-Qatari Committee is expected to hold its meeting in Doha in the first quarter of this year, said Mr. Al Hassan in his report.

Prime Minister Abdul Salam Majali outlined the outcome of talks with Egyptian Foreign Minister Amr Musa who Monday delivered a message to His Majesty King Hussein from President Mubarak of Egypt.

part and parcel of the pan-

Arab security, which we all should safeguard with all the means and resources available

mulating a pan-Arab plan of cooperation for addressing natural disasters and their destructive effects, saying that such a plan is absent from the Arab World. The plan, he said, should include clear methods for dealing with emergencies caused by disas-

He stressed that Jordan has always extended its hand for cooperation with Arab countries with open minds and thoughts. He said that Jordan has taken big steps on the path of democracy, which it considers as the basis for security, stability and respect for human

Mr. Hammad called for for-

Mr. Musa, explained Dr. Majali, discussed with the King three main issues concerning the Israeli-Palestinian negotia-

The first issue was related to the question of supervision of the crossing points between Jordan and the West Bank, the second concerned the area of the Jericho district from which the Israeli troops plan to withdraw and the third issue concerned security along the border dividing the Jericho area from the West Bank.

According to Mr. Musa, the Israelis and the Palestinians - 190 failed to reach an agreement to settle their differences during the Cairo talks, but the Israelis have submitted a memorandum to the Palestinian side to be studied, said Dr.Majali.

On the Jordanian-Egyptian relations, the prime minister said that two sides agreed to resume meetings by the Joint Jordanian-Egyptian Higher Committee, noting that the next meeting is to be held in Amman, but no date has yet been fixed.

The prime minister reported to the Cabinet on his inspection trip to Mafraq Monday, where he discussed decentra lisation and granting wider powers to the governors.

He also discussed the question of cooperation among heads of local departments.

The prime minister urged the Cabinet members to continue their field trips in various governorates in order to have a first hand idea about problems and needs.

Hammad: Only cooperation can help Arabs face challenges

AMMAN (Petra) — Interior Minister Salaméh Hammad Tuesday called for enhancing inter-Arab cooperation and revitalising institutes of common Arab work.

Addressing the 11th session of the council of Arab Interior Ministers which started its meetings in Tunis Tuesday, Mr. Hammad said: "We in Jordan believe that there is no other way for facing the challenges posed by the current situation, and changes resulting there from, except through inter-Arab cooperation and re-vitalising institutions." Mr. Hammad said Jordan believes that the security of any Arab country is an organic extension of the national

The minister added: "The security of any Arab country is

Symposium to tackle social security issues

AMMAN (Petra) — Amman will Monday host a three-day pan-Arab symposium on social security organised by the Social Security Corporation (SSC), and the Arab Labour Organisation, with the participation of representatives of workers, employers and governments in the Arab World. In announcing the meeting

Tuesday, SSC Director General Mohammad Saleh Al

Hourani said that the symposium will discuss a number of studies related to pan-Arab strategy in social security affairs, social security concepts in Islam developing systems governing social security, case studies from the Arab states and other matters.

He said that ways to promote relation to cooperation between social security organisation in the Arab World and the Geneva-based International Social Security Association will also be discussed.

1994 standby accord By a Jordan Times

Jordan, IMF finalise

Staff Reporter

AMMAN - Jordan and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) have finalised a standby agreement for the year 1994 as part of the economic restructuring programme the Kingdom is following since 1989, informed sources said

They said the main undertaking in the agreement was the introduction of a sales tax to replace a consumption tax before the end of next month and a reaffirmation of the Kingdom's moves to revamp the energy sector to make it cost-efficient.

The sources said no price increase of any commodity or fuel was envisaged in the letter of intent Jordan submitted to the IMF on the basis of which the standby agreement was finalised. The sources could not say whether the agreement was actually signed by the fi-nance minister.

The accord now goes before the board of governors of the IMF and, immediately after approval, clears the way for Jordan to open fresh debt rescheduling talks with the Paris Club of creditor governments in February.

An IMF certification that a debtor country is following an economic restructuring programme is essential before international creditors agree to hold debt rescheduling talks.

The IMF green signal for Jordan will also clear the way for the Kingdom to seek external financing to service its debts, estimated to cost around $400 million. The financing is expected to be raised with help from the World Bank, which convened a donors conference which produced $390 million in assistance to Jordan for the year 1993. According to the sources, apart from undertaking to introduce the sales tax, the government renewed its commitment to ensuring that the Jordan Electricity Authority (JEA) would be self-sufficient by the year 1995.

To achieve this end by improving the performance of the semi-autonomous JEA and developing the energy sector in general, the World Bank has extended an $80 million loan supported by a matching loan from the Japanese government.

"No other major measures are envisaged in the standby agreement other than reaffirmation of Jordan's economic targets as set out in the restructuring programme," said a source familiar with the negotiations that led to the finalisation of the document. The source noted that Jordan has already complied with the IMF requirements of raising fuel prices and reducing subsidies among other measures envisaged in the economic restructuring prog-

NEWS IN BRIEF

Majali receives former Lebanese premier

AMMAN (Petra) — Prime Minister Abdul Salam Al Majali Tuesday received at the Prime Ministry former Lebanese Premier Amin Al Hafez who is currently on a private visit to Jordan. Mr. Hafez was Monday received by His Majesty King

Lawzi confers with Algerian envoy

AMMAN (Petra) - Upper House of Parliament Speaker Ahmad Al Lawzi Tuesday received at the Parliament Algerian Ambassador to Jordan Al Hashemi Al Qaddouri. The two discussed Jordanian-Algerian relations and issues of common

Tawjihi papers to be marked on Jan. 9

AMMAN (Petra) — The process of correcting and marking examination papers of the general secondary examination certificate (tawjihi) will start in Amman and Irbid next Sunday, Jan. 9, one day after the end of the examinations, an official sources at the ministry said Tuesday. The sources called on teachers participating in the process to head for the halls assigned by the ministry for this purpose despite the fact that Sunday will be a public holiday in observance of the Israa and Mi'raj anniversary. The correction halls in Amman total 13 and in Irbid 10. Some 78,901 students have registered for the examinations this year.

Jordan Times

Chairman of the Board of Directors: MAHMOUD AL KAYED

Director General: MOHAMMAD AMAD

Editor-in-Chief:

GEORGE S. HAWATMEH

Editorial and advertising offices: Jordan Press Foundation.

University Road. P.O. Box 6710. Amman, Jordan. Telephones 667171/6, 670141-4

Telex: 21497 ALRAI JO Facsimile: 696183

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times advertising department.

Democracy is about openness, not secrecy

ONE ISLAMIST deputy has described the government briefing of parliament on the peace process during two secret sessions these past two weeks as not revealing more than is being read in newspapers. The deputy was speaking last week before the speech that His Majesty the Hing delivered on Saturday in which he revealed many of the secrets pertaining to the peace process and Arab coordination.

Jordanians might not know the details of the in the between the Arabs and Israel in general or the latter and Jordan in particular, but they are thely aware of the positions of every party to the talks and their limitations. In fact, those who have the stamina and enthusiasm to pursue the details are continuously following the news through all sorts of media. It is therefore totally macceptable that Jordan's 12th Parliament, mell into the fifth year of democracy, would chose to enhance a trend set by the previous parliament by accepting to debate the future of Jerdan in a secret session. We fail to see what is the wisdom or the logic behind holding such secret sessions. For one, deputies and ministers allike are representatives of the people and not the guardians of public affairs who have a menapoly on information and decision making. Secrecy is warranted when national security is "rentened. Is this the case? We do not think so. and we do not hear that the government had told parliament so. In fact, it would be extremeby healthy for the present and future of Jordan debates like these were made open for Jardanians to realise their country's strengths azd weaknesses. Secrecy will only enhance suspicion in people's minds that something is

Furthermore, secret parliament sessions do to strengthen democracy and make it take deep roots. Jordanians are mature enough to discuss peace and war issues as much as they are fit to discuss agriculture or the Election Low. And they have chosen their deputies to Farliament to ensure them full participation in power and in decision making. It is, therefore, undemocratic to deny the people to take part in in debate or at least bear what goes on in it. We. therefore, hope that our honourable denuties would in the future refuse to hold secret sessions, not only because they are undemocrafo, but also because they weaken people's belief in the deputies themselves and democracy in

RABIC PRESS COMMENTARIES

. DUSTOUR daily Tuesday commented on a visit to Jordan Amr Musa, the Egyptian foreign minister, who carried a to His Majesty King Hussein from President Mubaran about the coordination of efforts for peace. It is a fact that Critic and Amman are coordinating their efforts with the other thes involved in the peace process and therefore coordinaion of steps and stands is a must at this stage and before the comption of the peace negotiations with Israel, said the daily. Constant consultations between the two leaders have going on towards reaching an acceptable formula that would ensure a durable peace in our region, added the paper. it said that Jordan and Egypt have a pivotal role to play in the act mence to make the peace endeavours succeed. Therefore, the can only regard Egypt's participation in this joint of the within to close the gap which is still separating the local and the Arab and Palestinian sides. Egypt, said the local and local trying to open channels of dialogue mone the Arab states with the hopes of attaining the minimum degree of solidarity in the face of the critical stage and the deadlocked negotiations with Israel.

A COLUMNIST in Sawt Al Shaab daily tackled agricultural problems in an open letter to the prime minister. Since 1986, ici Johammad Masalha, the agricultural sector in Jordan has facing accumulating difficulties especially in the Jordan Value which produces most of Jordan's feed. But over the points successive governments of Jordan promised a lot and wheeld a little because the country lacks a clear agricultural give the said. Every year, governments dealt with the agran hural sector's crisis, but never had these governments a clear and permanent policy to deal with any of the ार्क कि ता रहें a heavy burden of debts and were unable to pay the enter the interest or the principal, added the writer. The armen are facing the problem of paying higher prices for arming requirements and equipment and find themselves anable to settle their dues to the money-lending institutions. Masaiha. The writer appealed to the prime minister to field trip to the farms and meet with representatives of farmer order to hear their views and their grievances and standing in the way of increased production

The press and U.S. politics for 1993-1994

By Dr. James Zogby

FOR THE past two weeks I reviewed President Bill Clinton's legislative successes during the past year and the challenges he faces as he prepares to introduce much-needed but controversial legislation to Congress in 1994.

Not only will the president be proposing legislation this year on health care, welfare reform and an anti-crime package, but all members of Congress and one-third of the Senate will be running for reelec-tion. The very fact of the upcoming elections, as much as the substantive issues involved in the legislative proposals, will complicate Clinton's work in

Given this tangled web of politics, what are likely to emerge as the issues in the 1994 Congressional elections? Before answering that ques-tion, it is necessary to set the Democrats are extremely worried for three reasons. First, the president's party traditionally loses Congressional seats during these mid-term elections (that is, elections that take place in the years when there is no presidential elec-tion); and because they have the majority of senators up for reclection, many of whom are quite vulnerable to defeat, Democrats are concerned that they may lose control of the upper chamber. Second, there are still many Democrats in the House of Representatives whose seats are at risk due to the 1990 redistricting which put them in Republican-leaning districts. Yet those are rather traditional problems, while the third reason is not.

Close cooperation between the White House and the Democratic National Committee (DNC) helped Mr. Clinton win several of his early victories, and was important in countering Ross Perot's advertising blitz against NAFTA. But the primary purpose of the DNC is to provide national-help to local Democratic candidates across the country, and during the past year the DNC spent relatively little time or money on local elections. This will change in 1994, but the normal election-year activities of the party are getting off to a

Many argue lack sufficient help from the DNC was a tor in the spate of Democratic losses that began with the Senate run-off in Georgia in December of 1992 and ended with the Republican victories in the New York Mayoral and New Jersey and Virginia governor's contests last November. In between were numerous special elections for seats in state legislatures, where Republicans also won most of the races. Critics of the DNC's tactics argue that you can't govern if you win legislative battles while losing election after election.

But the picture is not all bleak — there is a silver lining for the Democrats. By year's end the president's approval ratings were at their highest level in months, and he is pulling public attitudes towards the Democratic party along with him. By getting his legislation passed, and through a subtle but skillful handling of the press, Mr. Clinton has so far positioned his party well for the 1994 elections.

For example, recent polls show that the three most important issues in the minds of voters are the state of the economy and the need to create more jobs, combatting crime and drug problems, and reforming the health care system. Voters thought by a margin of 49 per cent to 32 per cent that the Democratic Party would do a better job than the Republican Party and by an overwhelming margin of 61 per cent to 18 per cent voters felt that the Democrats would do a better job than Republicans at reforming the health care sys-

Even on the issue of combating crime and drugs, on which the Democrats have traditionally been vulnerable, 35 per cent of voters feel that they would do a better job of bringing the situation under control. compared to 43 per cent for the Republicans. Although the Republicans fare better in this poll, it is close enough that it shouldn't hurt the Democrats in the 1994 elections, since most people don't think the federal government can do much to combat crime and so don't base their votes on that factor unless it is overwhelm-

So it unsurprising to note that 55 per cent of the voters see Mr. Clinton as a different kind of Democrat, and that 67 per cent see the democratic party as changing. This last number is important since it might help Democrats hold off anti-incumbent fervour better than if they were viewed as "the same old Democratic party," as Republican challengers will undoubtedly try to paint them. And though it required significant effort, it was the highly ambitious and successful legislative agenda of the president that is primarily responsi-ble for his good year-end polling numbers.

Though the president began 1993 with a rocky start, allowing the press to distort this issues agenda (by emphasising gays in the military, Zoe Baird and other failed appointments), Mr. Clinton's aggressive legislative agenda allowed him to control the debate for the remainder of the year. By holding news conference after news conference in which the main item was a piece of his legislative package, and through a carefully planned media strategy that focused on all the things the administration was proposing and doing, the Clinton team left the press with very little time to write its own stories and set its own agenda. It is a little appreciated fact in Washington even now, but it seems clear that the president's rigorous schedule going into 1994. But there is an important caveat to all of this: in three weeks' time Mr. Clinton could be in the depths of a slump and his ratings could be only half as good as they are now. In fact. in the last two weeks of the year and in the beginning of the new one, there is a sus-tained attack on Mr. Clinton's popularity. He is being accused once again by Republican sources of extramantal affairs helped to give his party a boost

and of questionable financial dealings while he was governor of Arkansas. Why have these very old stories resurfaced and why is the press covering them again? The reason for this is partially that with Congress out of town and the news cycle slow the president is having a more difficult time setting the agenda, but a more important factor is the way the press covers politics - especially the

Some will recall that the press had buried Mr. Clinton before he was even inaugurated, only to give him excel-lent marks for his inauguration address, then bury him again over several flaps involving problems with his political appointments, then resurrecting him again after his success on the budget bill before damning him once more over foreign policy problems.

And all this, of course, was after candidate Clinton was buried going into the nation's first primary in New Hampshire only to be pronounced the "comeback kid" after finishing second in a primary he was once expected to win. and then buried by the press a few more times during the primaries and again during the general campaign.

What is the explanation for this? Can it be that Mr. Clinton is some kind of genie who can never be permanently held down in the polls — is there nothing he couldn't come back from? Perhaps, but it is more likely a combination of public cynicism, press cynicism, and the fact that no one's political memory seems to be much longer than three weeks.

There is a familiar argument that after the Vietnam war and the scandal of Watergate, and numerous scandals large and small since then, that the voting public has been increasing cynical about politics. This may explain to a large degree why voter turnout has been so low the past twenty years; and it may also help explain the cynicism of the press, since, as one White House officially recently noted that "the press tends to fall into patterns that tend to follow, rather than create, public opinion or public fashion. It is well-known that we live in a cynical time and the press plays to that cynic-

But political analyst Thomas Patterson argues that the press, and not only the politi-cians, has created the climate in which public cynicism flourishes. In a study he conducted over the last thirty-five years, Patterson points out that in the 1960's less than onethird of the media's evaluations of political leaders were unfavourable. By the 1980's fully two-thirds of the media's comments about political leaders were negative. His study seems to show that the media's shift toward negative coverage began before the Vietnam war, and that the war and Watergate simply accelerated a trend already underway.

White House officials generally acknowledge that they rely on the media to get the administration's message out, but that they worry about how the press will "spin" the story. In an interview with The White House Bulletin, one White House official put it this way: 'The president is rarely able to speak to the American people directly and has to rely instead on passing his comments through the media filter. As a consequence, how the press is going to react to stories and strategising about the best way to get a story out goes on all the time. Administration officials also pointed out to the Bulletin that, while the majority of reports get their facts right, none are able to consistently explain events correctly. As one offi-cial put it, "when they report on what they saw or heard, they usually get it right. But as soon as they try to explain what it meant or what we were attempting to accomplish, they fall into the quicksand called Washington journalism'." And, as Mr. Patterson notes in his study, the majority of press stories written today are interpretive and not simple report-

By focusing on a "story of the day" an with two-thirds of their comments being critical, it is easy to see why someone buried as often as Bill Clinton can come back just as often, People can only hear so many negative stories about a single subject before the stories cease to have an impact. So while the press is busy making this or that judgement, it does not resonate deeply with anyone in the media audience.

The other side of the argument, of course, is that positive storie, are forgotten just as quickly. So although Mr. Clinton has achieved more in his first year than any president in almost forty years, very few Americans recall many of his victories. The same phenomenon explains how George Bush sank from a 90 per cent approval rating in 1990 to 39 per cent of the vote in 1992.

And with all the information available, it gets harder for any story, positive or negative, to get through. A study noted that it is almost twice as hard to reach voters through the media now than it was just ten years ago. And so it is that with the news cycle slow, the media turned to negative stories from the past. Although the White House seems to have gotten a little bit off the defensive, the president's popularity will probably not begin to rise again until the days just before his State of the Unfon Address, when the press will again turn its focus to issues of policy and substance.

But even when the news cycle begins to shift his way, the president will not be able to rest on his achievements and he knows it. With health care and welfare reform and an anti-crime package to be followed by mid-term elections in which his party will lose seats, Mr. Clinton has a full plate in 1994. And of course, there is the matter of foreign policy and continuing crises in Bosnia, Haiti, and Somalia where American soldiers will have spent their second consecutive New Year.

American politics is never dull, and Mr. Clinton's aggressive agenda has made it even more interesting. In all likeli-hood, 1994 will be an even more eventful year than was

Croatia concerned over Muslim gains in Bosnia

By Dan De Luce

ZAGREB — Croatia's recent threats of possible military intervention in Bosnia reflect a growing concern in the government over Muslim advances on the battlefield, political com-mentators and military analysts

But the tough talk from Zagreb probably represents more propaganda than serious intention as a major army action in Bosnia would carry tremendous risks for Croatia, including possible economic sanctions by the United Nations, they said.
"It would be fatal for

Croatia." said Fran Visnar, a Croatian military analyst. "It would bring about the implementation of sanctions.

However, officials in Zagreb said on Monday Croatian and Bosnian leaders would hold peace talks in Vienna on Tuesday to discuss territorial disputes as well as humanitarian Croatian Foreign Minister Mate Granic will meet Haris Silajdzic, prime minister of the Muslim-led Bosnian government, a spokesman for the foreign minister said.

Croatia's army commander and defence minister said last week the country might intervene directly in central Bosnia. and President Franjo Tudjman hinted the same in a television

The sabre-rattling coincided with steady drumbeat in the state media about Bosnian Muslim forces, often described as "fundamentalists" and "mujahedeen", attacking Crosts and committing alleged atrocities in the central Lasva

Croatian officials have been conducting a war of words with Muslim leaders over which ethnic group represents the real victims of Bosnia's war, said Zarko Puhovski, a political commentator. 'There has been a decline in anti-Serb propaganda, the theme is anti-

Foreign Minister Granic has called attention to the worsening conditions in the Croat enclave, and has appealed to the U.N. to declare the enclave a demilitarised safe haven similar to those created for Muslims in eastern Bosnia.

Forming safe areas would limit the Muslim offensive in the Croat-populated Lasva Valley without requiring a fresh military commitment, commentators said. But the U.N. lacks enough troops to enforce the safe havens already in existence.

Officials from the mostly Muslim Bosnian government delivered their own threats to Croats over the weekend. saying the Bosnian army would push for control of the Lasva Valley area around Vitez in Military analysts say the Bosnian army holds a distinct advantage over the encircled Croats in central Bosnia, with superior manpower, morale and organisation. U.N. military sources and diplomats have said that Croatia has armed and steered the Bosnian Croat Defence Council (HVO), which has suffered setbacks in central Bosnia against its former Muslim

A British lesson on boundaries By Chaim Herzog

expect the historic agreement with the PLO to be followed for a long time by violent clashes and terrorism. The powder keg still holds enough enough elements around wishing to ignite the fuse.

During the entire period of the conflict in Ireland, the British have refused to enter into negotiations with the Irish extremists; to this very day, there is a ban on leaders of the Irish underground appearing in the official British media.

tenacious British stand with interest. What impresses me,

perhaps more than anything else, is the British government's recently proclaimed condition that if even a single

IRA bullet is fired in a three-month period, there will be no

The British are trying to have been following this explosives, and there are

For here we are, just three months after the signing of the declaration, discovering that the two leaders are far apart in their views of what the agreement is supposed to achieve.

The issue of international border crossings is not merely a symbolic matter, but one of principle, and the prime minister should be encouraged in his firm stand. With hindsight, it isn't clear why the vague wording of the clause about Israel's responsibility for external security was not supplemented by a sentence spelling out the question of border crossings.

Israel has both security and political reasons — and endorsement in the Declaration of Principles - to insist on retaining control of border

It is important for us to supervise incoming and out-going traffic, certainly in the delicate, fateful phase we are approaching after the signature of the Gaza-Jericho deal, and important that we make a firm distinction between the interim stages and the permanent set-

Yasser Arafat is striving to llement.

THERE IS a natural tendency just now to compare the peace talks between us and the Palestinians and the new agreement between Britain and the Irish Republic. But this is dangerous, since the circumstances and background in each case are totally different.

The conflict in Ireland, which has gone on for almost 400 years, is based on the struggle between the Irish, who are Catholic, and the Protestant British settlers who currently constitute a majority in the north. No other conflict in the world, including ours, is characterised by such deep, uncompromising hatred. The Irish Republican Army is active not only in the north, but also in London and other British cities, unleashing terror to advance its political posi-tions. This blood-soaked struggle has cost some 3,000 lives in

And yet, despite the deep difference between that conflict and ours, it is possible to draw some interesting and significant analogies.

First, it should be recalled that in Ireland, the historic 1922 peace agreement brought neither calm nor resolution of the conflict. On the contrary, the signing of that agreement and the establishment of the Irish Republic were followed by a bloody civil war. The cruel killings in the 1920s are engraved upon my childhood memories and remain among the first impressions in my life.

in our case, too, we can show who controls the area

murky.

talks with the PLO again reyeals the shortcomings of the Declaration of Principles, which left substantive issues There is talk of a policy of vagueness. But I think that policy has not proven justified in our case. The vagueness has been too extensive, particularly around the most substantive moves. The current crisis in our before estering into negotia-tions, and they are trying to impose a cessriion of terrorism on the other side as a basis for We can learn something from the British negotiating introduce, even at this early stage, the attributes of political sovereignty for the Palestinian authority to arise in the territones. It is crucial that we make it clear to him that we are not discussing the establishment of a state now. The reason we must not concede this point is because we are dealing with the substance of the agreement. If we give way, we shall harm the substance of the entire process. The moment we give up part of our sovereignty and the concept we held to when we entered the peace process. (And all this before the PLO has even proved its ability to wield control in the area!) If we do not respect our own moment the PLO gets control of border crossings will be the stands along the way, we can hardly expect Arafat to do so.

The PLO leader is under heavy pressure; of that there is no doubt at all. He is being assailed from the territories, and by elements close to him in the leadership Andthe international community, at least the Americans, does not appear to be backing his stubborn stand. If he persists, he could damage his international standing.

Ultimately, Arafat has no alternative to the process be has entered - and he will want to find a solution before bi-lateral talks are renewed with Syria and Jordan in Washington in January. Their imminence is pressing him even more, a situation that should he exploited to the hilt.

With all our desire not to waste time or weaken our interlocutor, it must be made plain to Arafat that in matters of principle such as border crossings, the Israeli government reflects a national con-sensus and cannot allow itself to retreat in the face of his Pressure.

The writer was Israel's sixth president. This article is reprinted from the Jerusalem in the racsuman THE BRU SUILETTY AND THE BRUTCH IN COOPERS Ton wait for the heavy burden age or nearly curuen age of leadership at and a had chosen to a repossibility and we repossibility and the level of formand towards a set formand towards a set body representative backed by s manpower. and some to help some their credi-

Button us at this solventer us at this solventer is to reach all solventer and to all solventer and to all solventer and to all solventer and the solventer

A season terrain com-

ways committed.

Tuesday for the Palestinian

from page 11 en bankers said the a cedi came 100 mancial year was in set as a perin the previous curbs on cr

manment has been acidade credits exin ministral investhow the cerling. ata ach investment nelexpands ides of say when they 支加 the revelation jācas because it indi- z aegonannej process nal has repeatedly athe post of offers rate and turned down.

ാക്കാരവി ശസ്ഥാം വാ Literaturael and Sima :±dike peace talks !? and part of the U.S. Dapate process launched tamo two years 192 Plan been stalled for a sustanti has denied ⇒oreports that it re bit seiter talks with afemesed articles žfalexmian, resched, al months of secre essing the 21st confer

the general assembly o ≥ Mr Khaddam said The less rejected in any and the united a solution of Heights because labin optim stimed from page 1) Kaldoumi repeater to document of anding drawn up during the samounced at the lides were proposed.

ideas were proposed the picture is not that it and that the PLC at the regulations could re-

hes blamed PLO in the problems in the problems in the problems in the problems of the problems and was quoted to the was districted by Haaretz like was ready to resumment of the was constructed by the was conditions.

S also suggested by Palestinian Cambridge Halestinian Cambridge Ha would create onot cancel ; create a vacuu suum, Mr. Per

Settlers mo (Contit d Khan Yunes on O (Continued from page 1)

Rabat summit because we support our brothers who had hosen this course.

We implore God to help them in preserving their credibility in what they have committed themselves.

What concerns us at this. short period of time is to reach a joint vision with regard to all important issues and we hope each side would remain committed.

We are always committed. -I had set Tuesday for the meeting with the Palestinian leadership but it seems it could be Wednesday or Thursday. But if there is no sincerity and no genuine interest in cooperation to serve the people, I do not believe we can wait for

We realise the heavy burden on the Palestinian leadership at this stage but it had chosen to a carry this responsibility and we hope it would reach the level where we can continue to support it at all levels.

We look forward towards a responsible body representative of the people, backed by tremendous manpower, and enjoying credibility, so that we can go along the road together.

I have also spoken about coordination with Syria, Lebanon and Egypt, and we have proven our commitment to work together. No one should believe that we will go it alone in this regard.

Never have we compromised any iota of the Palestinian soil nor any right of the Palestinian people. We have been committed all along in support of the PLO as the representative of the Palestinian people.

Let us hope we will reach a comprehensive peace with the help of all parties.

We are not ready to sign a peace treaty unless all the problems are solved in a satisfactory manner and on all tracks and balanced with regard to us and the Israelis. Then we will have peace at the end and will mark the beginning of a new era where all will live in peace and security. Then the doors will be open to progress. We will concent our effort on the issue of land and water and people's rights in the talks and all the other items of the common agenda which we had

No curbs on credit for exports endorsed.

(Continued from page 1)

However, bankers said the additional credit came too late for the market to utilise it since the financial year was drawing to a close.

The ceiling is set as a percentage of the gross domestic product for the previous

The government has been trying to exclude credits extended for industrial investment from the ceiling, arguing that such investment had contributed to economic growth and would be reflected in terms of increase in the gross domestic product.

But the IMF argued that it was too early for such an exemption since Jordan was in the early stages of implementing the economic restructuring programme. It was likely that the IMF would respond positively to the Jordanian request at a later stage in the second phase (1993-98) of the restructuring programme.

Israel expands Golan colony

(Continued from page 1)

Golan offers of say when they were made, but the revelation was significant because it indicated the negotiating process with Isreal has repeatedly reached the point of offers being made and turned down...

The only official forum for talks between Israel and Syria has been the peace talks in Washington part of the LLS backed peace process launched in Madrid two years ago. Those have been stalled for

Syria steadfastly has denied a series of reports that it recently held secret talks with Israel, and expressed irritation after the Palestinians reached a deal with the Jewish state that followed months of secret Addressing the 21st conference of the general assembly of the Federation of Arab News Agencies, Mr. Khaddam said. Syria has rejected many attempts to reach a solution on the Golan Heights because it deeply believes in the comprehensiveness of any solution to the Arab-Israeli conflict and is also convinced that unilateral and partial solutions could not bring about just and peaceful

He reiterated that Syria demanded "full Israeli withdrawal from all occupied Arab territories."

"There will never be a disgraceful peace, nor will there be a peace that does not guarantee our full rights... a peace of which we will, together with our coming generations, be proud no matter how crucial the circumstances might be," he said.

Asked about his views on the forthcoming Clinton-Assad summit, Mr. Khaddam said we hope that serious steps might be carried out on the road to a just peace that may lead to a full Israeli withdrawal from all occupied Arab lands."

"We expect positive results and we have to work to reach these results," he added.

Dr. Shaath charged that Mr.

Peres had created the misunderstanding over the Cairo

talks by dictating and then amending drafts of agreements reached without PLO approval.

"When we objected to several things he dictated before our very eyes, Peres said, forget it. These are just principles, tomorrow we'll draw up a more exact draft'," Dr. Shaath

He added that the next day

Peres came up with a draft

"completely different from what he dictated," in Cairo.

he faxed his own amended version to Israel, which Mr.

Mr. Rabin Tuesday con-

Rabin did accept.

Rabin optimistic of talks

(Continued from page 1)

Mr. Kaddoumi repeated there was "no document of understanding drawn up during the talks, contrary to what Mr. Peres announced at the time. "Ideas were proposed vand submitted for discussion," - de said.

However, Mr. Musa said that the "picture is not that bleak" and that the PLO-Israeli negotiations could resume soon. Mr. Peres blamed PLO infighting for the problems in negotiations and warned that Israel was "not waiting breath-Dr. Shaath said that was why lessly" to carry out the Palestinian autonomy plan.

Dr. Shaath was quoted by the Israeli daily Haaretz as saying he was ready to resume negotiations "tomorrow morning," and accused Israel of attaching conditions. Mr. Peres also suggested fending in the Palestinian camp was the reason that Israel could not pin down an agreement with the PLO and said that setting aside understandings Israel says were reached in Cairo would "create a

"You cannot cancel an agreement, create a vacuum and say let's go take a walk through a vacuum," Mr. Peres firmed that Israel was studying the Palestinian position on the document. "It is natural that each side will try to obtain the maximum during negotiations," he said. We shall certainly find a way to overcome these obstacles." But he added: "If the Palestinians believe that they are not committed by this text, then we are not committed by it either,"

Mr. Kaddoumi said "it's up to Israel to make concessions, we have no more concessions left to make."

juring two Israeli soldiers overnight at an army firing range

near Tel Aviv, military officials serious condition after the blast, the officials added.

One of the men was in a

Settlers move into school

(Continued from page 1) A booby-trap exploded in-

said.

then killed by two Palestinians disguided as religious Jews near an Israeli settlement south of Khan Yunes on Oct.

The army is still hunting a second suspect.

money: the lengthy judicial process is extremely costly and must usually be paid for out of scarce public funds. Fraud has reached epidemic proportions and yet the system of controlling and policing, and ultimately catching the frauds-ters, is hopelessly inefficient.

high flyers who overestimated their business acumen.

solved, either for want of evidence - they are notoriously complex, and their often international character makes them

even more so - or for want of Most fraud cases are unre-

By Justin Keay

LONDON - Even within the business community, it has become fashionable to decry the excesses of the 1980s. The

"yuppie," its archetypally brash yet dumb representative is now almost an extinct species, while the unrestrained,

free market go-get-'em ethos

has given way to something more considered and thoughtful. As Europe and North America struggle with the han-gover — most notably, the most serious recession since the 1930s, record numbers of commercial and personal bankruptcies and a consequent evaporation of consumer confidence - the Reagan/Thatcher

boom already seems to belong

For many people, however, the legacy of the "decade of greed" will be with them for many years to come. Indeed, for the really unlucky on both sides of the Atlantic it will follow them to their graves.

The truth is that the 1980s

was not just the decade of greed: It was the era when gross, large-scale fraud became almost commonplace, facilitated by the explosive growth in cross-border trading and computerisation, leaving hundreds of thousands of depositors, pensioners, shareholders and workers much the poorer.

With money tight in the 1990s,

many are calling in their investments or other financial commitments and finding that promises made back in the 1980s are often worse than empty. For the whizzkids who wheeled and dealed their way through billions of dollars,

money had become something almost ephemeral; for many of the smaller investors and others to whom it belonged,

and who had worked hard to earn it, it was their only hope of a decent retirement or

Three years into the 1990s,

in the U.K. alone, there are a record number of fraud cases on police files. They read like a litany of the hopes and ultimate failure of the decade:

Bank of Credit and Commerce

International (BCCI), Asil

Nadir's Polly Peck, Brent-Walker, Maxwell...to name just the most famous. Other countries have been host to similar

-large-scale cosmopolitan crookery: the U.S.'s Donald

Trump and Australia's Alan

are further Anglo-Saxon examples. Many were just plain crooks; others, jumped-up to another lifetime.

The internationalisation of finance, securities and indeed, corporate activity has in no way been matched by an internationalisation in fraud detection. Interpol, the international organisation based in Lyon (France) that pools police information from all over the world, has a poor record on fraud: Most of its limited r sources have been devoted to solving violent or drug-related crime, while many of its members - including the U.S. and Britain - have been wary of sharing sensitive information with less than savory governments which are members of National governments are a ingitte ?

NIP IS

L. Jan Zand

often stymied in their attempts to uncover essential information or extradite key witnesses by the different rules that may prevail in other countries, as has happened most visibly with Asil Nadir of Polly Peck in Northern Cyprus, a country which Britain does not even recognise, diplomatically. Even when cooperation on fraud issues is guaranteed by a second or third country, it is often given low priority: With limited resources and increases in all kinds of criminality, national police forces see non-violent "white collar crime" as something to be looked at dur-ing the lunch hour.

Tony MacStravick was detective chief superintendent for the Company Fraud Department of London's Metropolitan Police, and is now assigned to Kroll Associates, the international corporate investigators. He believes Britain is currently experiencing an explosion in fraud, yet the authorities remain hopelessly confused and uncertain about how to cope with it. Little is being done despite growing public awareness of the problem and outrage against highflying crooks who seem apparently immune from successful prosecution.

Few restraints on white collair crime

"The increasingly complex

fraud weaker, as numerous pe:wly-established self-regulahis h goal-posts of legality and ill egality. Many of these remain, in effect, powerless, increasing pressure for a tightenber, for example, saw a major shake-up take place in Britain's Securities and Invest-ment Board (SIB), the so-calu ms.

Mr. MacStravick emphasises that under Britain's arcane, piecedent-driven legal system there isn't even a legal defini-

THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF TH

THE PARTED STATES OF

arid international nature of la rge-scale fraud makes proper detection almost impossible," he: says, pointing out that cer-tain existing legislation actually makes matters worse. "Client confidentiality and banking secrecy, as it exists in some countries, works against trac-ing allegedly defrauded Mr. MacStravick points out nat development in Britain diuring the 1980s actually made the position of those fighting to ry bodies struggled to estabing of their powers. Septemled watchdog for the City of London, with more resources theing channeled to its supervisdiry, enforcement and legal

tion of fraud Courts attempt to try the accused with a dazzling a rray of crimes, including

"crumi nal wrongdoing" and "inten tion to defraud." The 1987 ( Criminal Justice Act created a framework for the investigatic in and prosecution of fraud and established a unified body which would supervise cases involving more than £5 million ($7.5 million) — the Serion is Fraud Office (SFO). The S FO has since acquired a reput ation for moving with glac ial slowness" and for burigl ing a succession of cases, most notably that of Asil Nadir who managed to skip record bail c of £3.5 million ($5.25 mil-

his a ative country. Bankrupt in Britain, Mr. Nadi r. still has large investmen is abroad which are out of the reach of British investigatoirs and the creditors who inveist ed in the textile-to-foods group Polly Peck.

lion). chartering an aircraft to

C ritics point out that during six-year history, the SFO has only bought one case to a suc sessful close — Guinness: Even there, the principal motiviat or behind the group's illegal acquisition of Distillers — forme'r managing director Ernest Sau inders — is free after serving only part of his original sentence, on the grounds of ill-health.

There is increasing recognition that getting a conviction, and after that achieving a sentence that reflects the seriousness of the crime, is something of a lottery. There is a very real danger here: Laws that cannot be properly enforced, or which result in puny sentences after months of preparation and public expense bring the entire system of criminal justice intodisrepute, which has farreaching and disturbing im-

"The truth is that even successful prosecutions do not result in particularly severe sentences for the fraudsters," says Mr. MacStravick, pointing out that the ten-year sentence passed to Barlow Clowes and the six years to the directors of Dunsdale Securities (two major recent fraud cases in the U.K.) were exceptionally high. With this in mind, the prosecution should be less ambitious and try and get a conviction on at least some of the counts against the accused, rather than wasting time in building a case that incorpo-rates the full magnitude of the

This argument would appear to have logic on its side. Mr. Nadir, for example, currently faces some 59 charges, involving "theft" of in excess of £155 million. It will take months if not years to unravel all the strands of Polly Peck and secure a reasonably strong case for the prosecution. Why not instead hone in on certain more easily provable (if smaller) counts, that are more comprehensible to the jury and go for a quick conviction?.

Mr. MacStravik also feels the criminal justice system needs a number of amendments, including a time limit on the bringing of fraud cases — for example up to four months rather than years, as is now often the case. He is also adamant that there has to be more international cooperation on fraud issues, which would include agreement on just what does constitute wrongdoing.

"It sounds obvious to say it, but governments everywhere must recognise that fraud is a crime, just like any other crime, and that people get affected and hurt by it," says Mr. MacStravick. "For the sake of the victims and to deter future fraudsters, justice must be seen to be done" - World News Link.

Sorting out the 'library' of genes

The 1980s - the so-called decade of greed - spawned an epideratic of fraud and white collar crime (WNL photo)

By Barry James

EVRY, France - Imagine that you have to arrange thousands of weighty tomes in a library. Neither the books nor the chapters are labeled. The pages — there are several hundred to each volume — are jumbled up and are not numbered. And the text is written in a language you don't quite understand, using no more than four letters of the alphabet. The only thing you know for certain is that the library has 23 rooms of varying size, and each room has two identical sets of shelves.

Now arrange the books in the correct order. A team of French scientists researching the human genetic blueprint known as the genome has in effect succeeded in doing just that. Daniel Cohen, Jean Weissenbach and Ilya M. Chumakov — all members of the Genethon research laboratory here - have managed, figuratively, to place the books in order on the shelves,

put the chapters in sequence

and work out many of the page

Their "first generation physical map of the human genome" is being hailed as a stunning scientific achievement that will provide researchers a valuable tool in hunting the genes responsible for more than 3.000 known hereditary

The map gives a broad but still imprecise and scantily detailed overview of about 90 per cent of the genome, compared to the two per cent that had been mapped before.

The achievement fulfills Genethon's aim of completing the map in three years. The laboratory was established in 1990 by the French muscular dystrophy association, with money from an annual series of televised fund-raisers. The latest telethon raised more than 350 million francs ($60 million) in cash and pledges in what has become one of France's most popular national

In keeping with its philosophy that genetic information should not be patented. Genethon immediately made the map available over the Internet scientific network and will publish its findings in a 300-page book early next year.

The library represents the genome, a 32.5 billion character "text" written in linear fashion along a 1.5 metre wisp of deoxyribonucleic acid or DNA, one thousand times thinner than a filament of silk. The DNA, arranged in the famous double helix, is coiled up in a space one thousand times smaller than a pinhead in the heart of each human cell.

Each room in the library represents one of 23 pairs of chromosomes, one from the father and one from the mother. The books represent the more than 30,000 slices of DNA material that the Genethon team multiplied and analysed with the help of sophisticated robots and powerful computers. The chapter headings are genetic "markers," or known information points within the DNA fragments. Finding a marker is something like searching for an unusual word in a huge computer data base.

The chemical "language" of the DNA text is translated into various combinations of four letters, for example, ICGACGTTCAT-GAGC-TCATGCTA, arranged in an endless, hypnotic rune. Every few thousand characters, the text resolves into clusters of information known as genes, the instructions that tell eyes to be blue or hair to be curly. But sometimes, the book of life contains a spelling mistake that can translate into a fearsome Knowledge of the book in the wrong hands could be a frightening method of social control. Only two weeks ago, for example, China said it would use eugenics to "avoid new births of inferior quality and heighten the standards of the whole population."

handicap like muscular dys-

"We think a lot about the ethical problems, a huge amount," said Susan Cure, a scientist at Genethon. "But what the people in the muscular dystrophy association want is to find the disease genes as quickly as possible because they have children who might benefit."

The map combines for the first time a genetic map de-vised by Dr. Weissenbach containing more than 2,000 known markers, and a physical map created by Dr. Cohen, which clescribes the way the DNA fragments are arranged along their filament. Dr. Chumakov was responsible for the techriical wizardry that enabled the wast mass of data to be integrated.

Donate.

It means that scientists can now place several hundred known genes with some precision on their respective chromosomes. In the future. the many tens of thousands of genes that still have to be deciphered will find their place on the map. The addition of more markers - the target is 5,000 - will enable gene hunters to concentrate their search in the right place in the library.

It took six years to find the gene that took the life of the son of Bernard Barataud, the energetic go-for-broke president of the muscular dystrophy association, and at that rate it would take forever to locate every aberrant gene. The mapwill make it easier and much quicker to locate such killers in the future. If a disease is associated with a known marker, for example, researchers will know in which chapter or page to look for it. In theory, it should be possible to splice over the segment of DNA containing the faulty gene, just as you can patch an error in a computer programme.

The map is analogous to the rudimentary chart that Columbus took to the New World. It indicates roughly where genes are, without saying what they do. But as more markers are added and more genes are identified, it will become increasingly precise. Dr. Cohen predicts that within 15 years, it will be as detailed as today's satellite maps of the earth.

The Genethon team has schieved a breakthrough that had not been expected until 1995 under the vast Human Genome Project, led by the United States, which aims to describe the entire genome, chromosome by chromosome and gene by gene, early in the next century — International Herald Tribune.

Friday night until Wednesday. This was 19 less than in 1992

but for Mr. Munoz it is still far

Many of the deaths are the alcohol, youth and a thirst for "Alcohol plays a part in a third of the accidents and though it is difficult to prove, it is believed to be responsible result of a fatal combination of too high a price to pay.

speed.

Spain bids to curb carnage on the roads

By Clar Ni Chonghaile Reuter

MADRID — Every Monday morning, Spain wakes up to a grim body count as the cost of another fun-filled weekend is counted in lives lost on the roads.

The death toll is as much a part of news bulletins as the soccer report. Graphic pictures of twisted and charred wrecks fill the newspapers, mute testimony to the devastating consequences of a lethal cocktail of youth, alcohol and speed.

But some politicians and businessmen have decided. enough is enough and have united in a bid to put a stop to. the carnage.

Traffic police, government representatives, mayors, members of automobile clubs and driving school instructors are just some of the people who have signed a pact aimed at elevating road safety to the top of their list of priorities.

Behind the initiative is Director-General of Traffic Miguel Munoz Medina, who says Spaniards are becoming more aware about road safety. "There comes a moment when it is time to say enough,' says Mr. Munoz, the official in charge of drafting traffic laws and regulations. "We are experiencing a moment of extreme public sensibility about road accidents." The number killed on the consecutive year to see a decline in the death toll.

roads remains amongst the cooperative and difficult but I highest in Europe, with some doubt if this is true." 6,000 deaths in 1992. However, 1993 should be the fourth

"This is not satisfactory but it is a sign of hope." Mr. Munoz said. He claims Spain is on a par with other European countries with a similiar car-culture. "I don't think we are much different from other countries. as far as deaths per million go. We are around the level of France and Belgium although way ahead of the United King. dom which has about half as: many deaths as us," he said. He dismissed the traditional stereotype of Spaniards as, bad drivers. "I don't think Spaniards are the worst drivers. Yes, people accuse them of being very uni-

On the wide tree-lined streets of Madrid, it's all too easy to believe in the stereotypes. Cars screech to a halt at pedestrian crossings and drivers tap their steering wheels impatiently as pedestrians scramble across, casting anxious glances left and right. Once the lights change, the cars are off, roaring down the boulevards like race horses bursting from their stalls. An aggressive advertising campaign has been launched by the traffic authorities in a bid to change such attitudes and it pulls no punches in hammering home the grisly consequences of recklessness.

We were worried about it at first. We did not want to offend the Spanish people ...just to let them know the consequences of imprudence," Mr. Munoz said.

Even in Madrid's record

shops, the thumping music is interrupted every so often with a warning to young customers to dilute their weekend pleasure with prudence on the roads.

Young men are most likely to end up in the twisted and crushed wrecks. Car accidents are the biggest killer in the 18 to 25 years age group. Mr. Munoz said.

In 1992, 6,014 people died on Spanish roads and motorways according to Interior Ministry statistics. Of those nearly 28 per cent were men aged between 25 and 44.

Despite increased awareness, the slaughter goes on. At the beginning of December, 80 people were killed in road accidents during a long weekend which stretched in true Spanish tradition from for one out of two road deaths." said Mr. Munoz. He is sceptical about a new scheme to cut down on drinking and driving, devised by police in the northern region of Catalonia. Police are offering free breathalyser tests outside bars and clubs in a bid to awaken partygoers to the danger of driving when over the limit.

Clin-1 his nt in few f his phe-

∦ere is of ical

ilton

10 2

orge 992. ∃tion nd to :edia √ears 1 the √hite еп а , the will aion will

way. care ns in eats. te io re is olicy nere utive

ever even keli

out the evel. ان جان ,cin⊈

ries. :rn3 and. nage w mi with mail ould it in กลต่ะ

1151 order ve III

Volume of trading at the Amman Financial Market slightly short of one billion mark

By Samir Shafiq Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — Total trading at the secondary and parallel markets of the Amman Financial Market (AFM) rocketed beyond the 1992 record of JD 887 million by 9.2 per cent and ended 1993 at JD 969 million, AFM Director General Umayya Toukan told a press conference Tuesday.

Dr. Toukan said 75.8 per cent of the 1993 total was achieved in the first sev en months of the year as trading slowed in the later months d ue to political developmen ts which ushered a "wait a nd see" period from August un til

The AFM general price i ndex closed last year at 158 .5 points, 22 per cent above ti ie: close at the end of 199 2. although the index hit 181 .6 points on July 7, 1993.

The volume of shares issue d at the primary market was als o

Sectoral distribution of the trading volume

Trading at the secondary market

JDs
Total	Trusters conspict from trading	Stocks	Shares	Period
9,871,891	4,058,000		5,615,891	1978
20,468,007	3,848,649	776,239	15,843,199	1979
49,840,904	6,748,813	1,661,015	41,431,076	1996
84,311,218	6,519,746	2,324,445	75,417,027	1961
139,796,345	9,585,110	1,942,272	128,288,963	1962
155,515,068	13,491,071	907,596	141,427,111	1983
66,305,646	8,302,526	1,676,497	59,326,623	1924
54,784,130	14,425,344	3,807,914	65,730,872	1965
96,134,243	26,000,575	2,530,574	00,522,903	1986
167,207,733	17,982,136	1,047,321	148,178,276	1987
171,476,465	22,194,279	18,856,964	132 625 222	1988
554,624,660	164,865,777	22,175,343	367,583,740	1989
299,815,340	17,404,353	3,121,014	268,685,973	1990
120,267,596	16,001,985	1,448,574	302,836,729	1991
906,527,508	15,254,053	4,316,726	886,951,729	1992
68,400,793	629,008	753,636	67,018,148	,
49,508,436	461,470	312,235	49,734,731	February ,
61,902,189	1,140,549	1,240,780	$1,511,800	) Link
129,301,267	2,281,161	402,103	126,727,963	April
50,171,032	1,757,797	363,509	57,049,728	14ky
44,279,328	1,065,230	304,310	42,909,788	jac
32,986,172	1,810,072	107,403	31,048,097	July
58,158,671	1,262,530	140,958	55,753,163	August
97,227,024	964,186	100,991	95,081,543	September
71,103,757	2,233,585	401,279	65,463,893	Clas ter
128,941,840	789,529	25,847	128,127,373	Nemater
105,474,010	850,633	103,475	104,519,502	Opensites
1,010,636,942	37,372,246	4,650,899	968,613,797	1993
128,154,082	959,173	3,748,702	121,946,297	Jessey
63,563,298	2,783,605	144,565	60,524,825	February
53,537,453	8,577,140	43,439	45,018,874	March .
74,584,105	2_297,067	43,919	72,344,020	Apdi
111,967,242	3,962,011	$2,479	107,572,752	May
178,114,674	1,334,965	117,928	174,967,781	Jac
154,448,510	2,420,586	109,509	151,910,515	July .
56,045,878	4,057,395	73,265	51,915,216
59,832,903	2,351,263	121,217	57,360,403	Squinter
59,183,981	1,386,625	287.272	54,508,184	Omber
27,441,222	4,204,189	71,515	23,165,616	Homestax
46,676,395	1,038,207	263,683	47,474,596	Domaker

a record as the total at the end of 1993 amounted to JD 227.2 million, 316.9 per cent higher than the 1992 total of JD 54.5

The value of new shares issued by newly-established companies amounted to JD 7 million compared to JD 43.5 million in 1992. The value of new shares issued by old companies to increase capital, amounted to JD 137.5 million compared to JD 11 million in 1992.

Dr. Toukan referred to latest statistics available to the AFM on the performance of public shareholding companies and noted that in the first half of 1993 the net pre-tax profit of all the companies was 5.1 per cent less than the previous

He explained that public shareholding companies re-corded a JD 113.3 million net pre-tax profit in the first six months of last year compared with ID 119.4 million during the same period of 1992. By sector, the banking and financial companies posted a net pre-tax profit of JD 59.8 million, a 13.1 per cent rise over the January-June period

The insurance and services

Volume of trading at the 68 (688)

15.8' 10,100

29,22 (4,572)

367,R 0,740

45,7114,735

MA 1,44 MA 1,60

104.51 9.50

121,Ar 8,207

77.34 | 4,029

167 K '27 TE

F4.K 0,194

174,017,701 37.2

57,34 0,453 34.3

23.11:6,516 -67.7

21,64 E,667 -16.0

4.5

-14.7

968.61 1.797 -22.9 279.436.34

28.2

-1.1

-33.2

71,9

19.2

48.1

177.2

-37.A

1.2

ELZ.

-49

44,025 47.5

39,725

secondary and parallel markets

sectors both registered a net pre-tax profit of JD 4.3 million in the first half of last year but the amounts represented a 15 per cent increase on the 1992 figure for the insurance sector and a rise of 9.3 per cent for the services sector. The net pre-tax profit for the industrial sector totalled JD 44.8 million, but the amount reflected a sharp 23.8 per cent drop from the six-month profit

Dr. Toukan highlighted that in 1993 the AFM has authorised the establishment of two public shareholding broker-ages specialised as "market makers" and on condition that the capital of each should not be less than JD 10 million. The functions of these companies are to be limited to buying and selling financial papers for its own portfolio and to guarantee the coverage of issuances.

The AFM has issued the necessary instructions that would regulate the functions of these companies in accordance with the AFM's internal regulations, Dr. Toukan said. He added that the AFM had written to the concerned departments last year to issue regulations concerning "mutual funds" and that a spe-

6,834,869

49,8119,23

113,792,70

22,766,31

Z2,012,00

30,944,27

17,906,11

17,719.7

Period

1978

1777

1963

cialised committee had been set up to study the subject and draw up guidelines for its implementation as soon as

In its drive to modernise the work, the AFM board has approved in 1993 the regulations to enlist and suspend shares of public shareholding companies.

"The AFM has also participated in regulating the process of subscribing in shares in order to curb the subscription under many names as this phenomenon has hampered the work at the AFM and the companies concerned," Dr. Toukan said,

The AFM wrote to the concerned parties to find a solution to this problem and in-formed all banks not to accept any subscription without checking identity documents." Dr. Toukan said that the

ments or statistics that might

AFM was keen to keep investors informed about developcriteria.

affect prices and was issuing various bulletins and announcements to that end. Moreover, the AFM has reconsidered the sample of companies upon which it calculates the general price index adopted at the beginning of 1993, by adding 19 new companies meeting the specific standards and criteria and dropping nine companies which were not in line with the

"Summing up, the number of companies in the sample has increased to 60 which reflect the sectoral representation of the companies whose shares are listed for training," Dr. Toukan said.

Paller Prices To Cut debis, the Long debis, a Awsat his ne maximum spene the Saudi Arabia proper and allow of on Property Position spen of an oil price fit

Financial

Harkets

Dealer Mari

Save Franc

Elian.

String Pound

Bosche Mark

frank krun.

(S. Dollar

Demoke Vierk

Apple Profes

post tranc

post seu

Duck Guilder

page Plus

NOGNO

Extension (R) — For a the London Foreig

ids $1.00 costs

Dr. Toukan, in answering a question, revealed that foreign (non-Arab) institutions were given permission to buy shares worth about JD 40 million in 1993 but what was actually bought did not exceed JD 500,000 at the end of last year.

London precious metals surge to fresh 5-month highs

LONDON (R) -- Gold's first fixing of 1994 took it to a five-month high of $395 an ounce Tuesday, its best since Aug. 5, as the Far East and Europe followed up on Monday's bullish moves in New Dealers described the tone as positive, anticipating a fresh assault on $400 as more players came into the market.

"Most of the action so far has been with the professionais. Clients are waiting for a major move before coming back in," one dealer said.

LONDON (AP) — Bank of America agreed to pay 25 million pounds ($37 million) to settle claims from a pension plan looted by the late publisher Robert Maxwell, it was Trustees for the pension plan of Maxwill's former newspaper company, Mirror

Group, had been seeking 38

million pounds ($56 million) each from Bank of America and Zurich-based Credit Suis-

Bank of America, based in San Francisco, had acted as custodian for stocks held by the Mirror pension plans and passed them along to Ctedit

Suisses as security for loans

made to Maxwell's private

After Maxwell was found dead at sea in November 1991,

a variety of financial irregularities including hundreds of millions in missing pension fund

Under the deal announced

Tuesday, Bank of America

admitted no wrongdoing. The trustees of the Mirror Group pension plan said they would money, were discovered.

announced Tuesday.

Bank of America to pay

millions in Maxwell case

The $400 price may not be technically significant but it was billed as psychologically important for market confi-

"And it (the market) looks good enough to get there in the next couple of days," one deal-er said, adding that client participation was still muted especially in Germany where an interest-rate cut could be announced Thursday.

New York's futures markets were encouraged Monday -when Tokyo and London were closed — by economic data continue their claim against

America on being one of the first financial institutions to accept a commercial and public responsibility to contribute to the restoration of the pension

funds," said Colin Cornwall, independent chairman of the pension plan trustees. "This is a substantial contribution, made without lengthy and cost-

Bank of America's London-

based assistant general counsel, Tom Brooks, called the settlement "an appropriate means of contributing to the restoration of the pension funds without the delay and uncertainty to pensioners and the bank of lengthy court proceedings, and of putting this claim by the trustees behind bank holds none of the pension fund assets which are the subject of court proceedings, nor did the bank gain any significant benefit from acting as a custodian for the Mirror scheme."

Mr. Brooks added: "The

'We compliment Bank of Credit Suisse.

ly legal-action."

suggesting the U.S. economy is recovering strongly. U.S. construction spending data for November was better than expected, and the National Association of Purchasing Managers' index for November showed the third straight month at over 50 per cent.

"The U.S. economic data is particularly helpful for the industrial metals and silver looks strong," a dealer said, adding that $5.30 an ounce for silver was forecast after a midday quote of $5.27.

Silver acted as the locomotive for the precious metals Monday when strong buying pushed the market higher and the positive feel in turn encouraged fresh interest in gold.

Rhona O'Connell, metals analyst with stockbroker T.

Hoare Co., said: "Silver might also be reacting to the armed conflict in Mexico, the world's largest silver producer.' According to figures from the Washington-based World Silver Institute, Mexico produces about 19 per cent of the world's newly mined silver. Platinum also leapt forward spurred by improved industrial prospects but dealers said consumers were not responding.

"Most of the interest is speculative with buyers hoping to anticipate improved industrial demand later in the year." one London-based dealer said.

The metal was fixed at a five-month high of $399.50 per ounce and extended its premium to gold to over $4, compared to about the same level or discount in mid-December.

HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY JANUARY 5, 1994

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Do away with any wishful thinking tails of whatever has been intriattitude can rid of that problem of long standing. Be alert to needed data, especially in your GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21)

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Now associates understand your ideas and are willing to cooperate with you in every way.

LEO: (July 22 to August 21) You are able to accomplish a very great deal today, so be very sure to cooperate with associates and make big headway in any of your

VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) This can be a particularly happy day for you, esepecially

instrumer 16 Feiry zale opener 19 Consume 20 Spokesm 22 Raced 24 Prohits

56 Fooder holder 57 Snare or kettle 58 "Forever ---59 Elevator man 60 System of

61 Lock — 62 Rose or Fountain

DOWN
1 Travel
2 Melody
3 Frank
4 Explosive
5 Engander
6 Compate
7 Crossent
8 Buky

By Thomas S. Pierson, Astrologer, Carroll Righter Foundation

where a close associate is con-cerned. Get into the specific deguing you and eliminate any aspects that you can't accept at ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) Contact some powerful you know who can assist you to come in contact with a banking institution or financier who can rid you of your money problems.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) Some new ideas or a change of Follow intuition how to improve relations with associates, as well as garnering information needed from experts, particularly in per-

See that you assist them with their plans, also.

with wife or husband and the youngsters. Or, if single it is possible you will meet the right one today.

LIBRA: (September 23 to Octo-ber 22) Get abode in finest order now and also do everything in your power to increase harmony. at home, which is so vital to your happiness and wellbeing.

SCORPIO: (October 23 to November 21) Do whatever is necessary to get the backing of associates. Have meetin sell, study data, etc. Then relax tonight with good (riends at your

SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to Decemb. 21) Be sure to make workable big projects you have had in mind so that you increase income to the point where you have real abundance. CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) Take beauty and health treatments that keep you mentally and physically fit. Then olan social affairs that are truly inspiring, both today and AQUARIUS: (January 21 to February 19) Got an early start at clearing up obligations before you. Be efficient, quick. Get small tasks out of the way methodically too.

PISCES: (February 20 to March 20) A fine day and night to be with those who are experienced and travelled and to gain much from their background for your

GLAGBERGEN

THE BETTER HALF.

"It's stamped right on my driver's license. I'm officially too old to take you out necking in the car."

Peanuts

#3

-1.2

41.2

-13.1

30,1

347

1,9

38.4

7,2

46.5

By Glasbergen

Andy Capp

Mutt'n'Jeff

antiquity"
(Lamb)
30 Seeped
31 Destitute
33 Conflest
36 Mao's title
37 Pouting girl
39 Oak or ein 40 Finished
42 Last syllable
43 Bishoo's

Saudi Arabia spending cut will help pay debt — paper

DUBAI (R) — Saudi Arabia's decision to reduce 1994 public spending by 20 per cent will allow it to use income from any rise in oil prices to cut its foreign debts, the Londonbased Asharq Al Awsat newspaper said Monday.

"The maximum spending limit gives Saudi Arabia an immediate answer to the problem of oil prices and allows it to boost its financial position in the event of an oil price rise,"

JORDAN GLASS INDUSTRIES
DAR AL DANS DAVELOPHENT & INVESTMENT
ARAB INVESTMENT & INCREMENTATIONAL TRADE
ARABA ALUMENTON INDUSTRY
ARABA PAPER CONCRETEING & TRADING
JORDAN HEALTH LINGUISTRY
WATCHARL STEEL LINGUISTRY
WATCHARL STEEL LINGUISTRY
WATCHARL STEEL REQUISTRIES
JORDAN HOUSTREES & MATCH/JINCO
LORGANW PROCEST INDUSTRY

ORDAN PRICAST CONCRETE INFOS ATTOMAL CABLE E NIME MANUFAL ORDAN SULPHO-CHEMICALS

Financial

Markets

Currence

terling Pound

wiss Franc

French Franc

Japanese Yen-

U.S. Dollar

Swiss Frame

French Franc

U.S. Dollar

Swiss Franc

French Franc

Dutch Guilder

Belgian Franc

Correscy

Swedish Krona

Sterling Pound

European Currency Unit

Sterling Pound

Deutsche Mark

European Curreny Unit

USD Per STG... European Opening & 8:80 n.m. GMT

ation of Share

wering;
t foreign ns wer iy share illion is actual iced li

ie ang e work ducer

trom is

'orld ç

produc-

of the silver.

forwar

industra

said on

ponding st is spe

noping K

ear 🗽

said.

xed ar i

99.50<sub>ps</sub>

its pre

$4,000

ame leve

ecember

994 undator

to Oak

est one

sthing s

il to va

r 23 ti

igs, but ben rela

's at you

sure P

jects von

that you

he pont

undance

ber 22 to auty and keep you fit Then

3. 200

iv startal is before

ick. Ge

3y metho-

to March

ght to be perienced ain much for your

the Saudi-owned daily said. The paper was commenting on Saudi Arabia's 1994 budget, unveiled Saturday.

The Saudi Press Agency, which carried details of the budget, said spending in 1994 would fall to 160 billion Saudi riyals ($42.67 billion) from last year's budgeted 196.95 billion ($52.52 billion).

Oil prices are currently near five-year lows, hit by an excess of oil supply and world reces-

PREV. OPENING CLOSING CLOSING PRICE PRICE PRICE

AMMAN PINANCIAL MARKET

1,667,413

New York

Itale 3/1/1994

1.4755

1.7435

1.4940

5.9333

112.70

1.1120

3.31

5.18

5.75

3.87

6.12

2.00

6.18

0.7050

1.0391

0.4038

0.4714

0.1187

0.6219

0.3608

****

0-0413

3.08

5.37

6.00

4.0¢

6.31

2.34

6.43

laterbank hid rates for amounts exceeding 1.5. Hollurs 1.000.660 or equ

Central Bank of Jordan Exchange Rate Bulletin

Close

Tokuo

Close

1.4755

1.7441

1.4947

5.9265**

113.27

1:1129**

4.87

5.12

3.56

5.37

1.75

· Data: 4/1/1994

3 MTHS 6 MTHS 12 MTH

3.43

5.50

3.81

5.87

1.87

Date: 4/1/1994

0.7870

1.0443

0.4058

0.4738

0.1193

0.6250

0.3626

0.0415

4/1/1994

Otter

Jordan Times

Cairo Amman Bank

Saudi Arabia, the world's largest oil producer, may keep public spending at the new lower level or only raise it moderately over the next few years, Asharq Al Awsat said.

Any extra income generated by possible rises in oil prices could then be used to pay off part of the kingdom's foreingn

"The finance ministry may decide to take this option, or a mixture of this and other ways of increasing state income such as privatising public corpora-tions or rescheduling in areas where spending is flexible, such as defence equipment."

Saudi Finance Minister Mohammad Abal Khail said in August the total foreign debt did not exceed a 52 per cent limit set by the then European Community for creditworthi-

Bankers in the kingdom said then that with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) putting Saudi GDP at $119 billion, this would imply a debt of about $61 billion.

More recent figures for Saudi GDP were not yet avail-

Asharq Al Awsat said 1994 spending cuts were made possible by strong growth in the private sector in recent years, exemplified by the expansion of the financial services indus-

"With every new budget we see a slight lessening of the ... government's (role) in moving the wheels of the economy because of private invest-Asharq Al Awsat The Arab News reported

Monday that Saudi Deputy Commerce Minister Abdul Rahman Al Zamil said King Fahd's declaration that the riyal would not be devalued has effectively ended speculation against the riyal. The Jeddah-based newspaper quoted Sheikh Zamil as saying: "The statement of King Fahd is reassuring for the private sector and businessmen, since there were a lot of rumours spread by speculators and bankers throughout the market in order to encourage their own interest. The forthright statement of King Fahd puts an end to such speculation.

speculative deals and promote

The monarch made his unusual defence of the riyal Saturday in unveiling the country's 1994 budget, following four months of turmoil in the market in which oeprators borrowed riyals to buy dollars in case of a devaluation.

Interbank rival deposit rates risen as a consequence and had the Saudi Arabian Monetary Agency had been forced to step in to support the rival.

Rival rates fell Sunday after the statement and continued to drop Monday.

UAE eyes spending cuts due to low oil prices

ited Arab Emirates (UAE). in line with other Arab Gulf oil producers, said Tuesday it is considering spending cuts to offset low oil prices.

UAE minister of state for finance and industrial affairs Ahmad Bin Humaid Al Tayer told Reuters the UAE's 1994 budget would be in the same range as last year's budget of 17.6 dirhams ($4.8 billion) in spending and 15.9 billion dirhams ($4.33 billion) in re-

He said the 1994 budget. expected to be issued this month, will take into account low oil prices and try to cut spending. "We hope this year's budget will be the same as last year. there is no increase in expendilance the budget," he said. "Of course this year because of the oil price decline compared to last year when we proposed our guidelines given to the ministry (we estimated) that (per barrel of oil)." "But now as you know prices are not in favour of the revenue. So we are recalculating our proposed expendi-ture," he said.

the price would be around $16

OPEC's basket of seven crudes slipped to well under $13 a barrel at the end of last

Mr. Tayer said actual spending in 1993 was lower than expected. 'Last year there was a deficit around 1.7 billion (dirhams) but we managed during the year that the actual but there is still a deficit," he

A UAE finance ministry circular in July cited low oil prices as the main reason it was asking ministries to curb spending estimates for the 1994 budget.

Like other Arab Gulf oil producers, much of the UAE's federal revenue comes from oil. Prices are near five-year lows from an excess of oil supply and world recession. Saudi Arabia announced last week that its spending would fall by 20 per cent to 160 billion riyals ($42.67 billion) from last year's budgeted 196.95 billion ($52.52 billion).

Abu Dhabi, richest of the UAE's seven emirates and its biggest oil producer, is, believed to provide more than 80 per cent of funds for the feder-

expenditure was less than that ture and we are trying also to

THE PROFESSIONALS ALWAYS CHOOSE THE RELIABLE .

PACKING AIR FREIGHT FORWARDING, DOOR-to DOOR SERVICES AND DELIVERIES . CUSTOMS CLEARANCE, TICKETS AND, RESERVATIONS.

AMIN KAWAR&SONS TEL 604676 604696

Only The Best

Many furnished and unfurnished villas apartments for rent.

Abdoun Real Estate

Tel. No. 810605/810609 Fax No. 810520

CABEE

'homely and intimate"

Tel. 630571 Fax. 630572

The Inn Place to be..

Five Branches ALL Over The World And Now One in

Live Classical Music. Lunch ( Special ) Every Busi-

Opposite French loaf Tel- 653482

DANZAS

INTERNATIONAL DOOR TO DOOR REMOVALS GERMAN DRIVERS - AIR - RIDDEN REMOVAL TRUCKS YOUR REGULAR LINK TO AND FROM EUROPE SPECIALISTS FOR DIPLOMATIC REMOVALS IN THE NEAR EAST

FOR DETAILED INFORMATION PLEASE CONTACT EASTERN SERVICES

OFFICIAL DANZAS AGENT IN JORDAN TEL: 621 775 TLX: 23023 FAX: 656 270 PEACE BUILDING - JABAL LWEIBDEH AMMAN - JORDAN

Round table for 12-18

2nd circle - Jabal Amman.

Open 7 days a week

Tei 613572 👯

Except Sunday From 4.00 P.M to 3.00 A.M

Tel: 685211 Fax: 617779 Middle East Hotel - Shmeisani

TALK OF THE TOWN DISCOTHEQUE

Open nightly From 9.00 P.M to 3.00 A.M.

Mecca Street, Yarmouk Engineers' Housing Estate, near Kilo Supermarket Mongolian Barbeque for Lunch Friday only

Tel: 818214 Come and taste our specialities Open daily 12:00 - 3:30 6:30 - Midnight

Restaurant

Typical Chinese Foods Skilled Chinese Chefs Open 11:30 - 3:30 & 6:00 - Midnight Take away is available Shat Al-Arab Street Um Uthainah Commercial Centre Tel.: 861174 Once Tasted Always Loved ist Circle, Jabal Amman, near Ahlıyyah Gıris School Taka away is availabk Open daily 12:00-3:30 p.m. 7:00 - Midnight Tel. 638968

a steady, we believe!!! LARA SALON AND

1.8800 Babraipi Dinar 0.040555 0.041785 Lebanese Lira* 0.1875 0.1885 2.3100 0.1923 0.1910 0.2050 0.2200

audi Riyal Kuwaiti Dina: Qatari Riyal 1.8240 1.7980 Omani Riyal UAE Dirham 0.1910 0.1923 Greek Drachma 0.3245 Cypriot Pound

LONDON EXCHANGE RATES

LONDON (R) - Following are the buying and selling rates for leading world currencies and gold against the dollar at midsession on the London Foreign Exchange and bullion markets Tuesday.

U.S. $1.00 costs

One sterling

grafi — Periode de la composition della compos

One ounce of gold

1.3152/62 1.7417/27 1.9480/90 1.4880/90 36.31/35 5.9195/45 1702.3/3.8 113.39/49 8.342*5/*25 7.5335/35 6.7940/40

$1,4795/05 $394,75/395,25 Deutschemarks Dutch guilders Swiss francs Belgian francs French francs Italian bre Japanese yen Swedish crowns Norwegian crowns Danish crowns

Canadian dollar

Hairstyling, hair removal with hot wax and Arabic way. Manicure, pedicure and facials.

BEAUTY CENTRE

Sweifieh, opposite Boston Fried Chicken.

We try harder.

2 699-420

Hour Service Develop your colour film at our shop and get:-

. JUMBO photo size 30% larger * Free enlargement 20 x 30 cm

Shmeisani - Opp. Grindlays Bank, Phone: 604042 Swefich tel: 823891

The First Class Hotel in Amman that has a Kitchenette in every room... "Satellite T.V. Reception" DAROTEL

=اراب:بــر Amman - Tel. 668193

P.O.Box 9403 - Fax 602434 Telex 23888 DAROTL JO Ideal Residence For Expatriates and Businessmen

Talk of U.S.-N. Korea deal premature - Seoul

SEOUL (Agencies) — South Korea said Tuesday it was premature to believe North Korea and the United States would strike a deal soon on nuclear inspections.

North Korea watchers in Seoul agreed that optimistic sentiment from Washington about an agreement soon with the secretive Pyongyang government were overstated, and they said negotiators should be cautious until the last minute. "Talks between Washington and Pyongyang are going in the right direction, there has been progress. But the deal is not something that can be reached overnight," said a Foreign Ministry official.

"It is premature to be talking about a deal being reached very soon. -The United States said Monday a deal could be wrapped up this week on inspections of North Korea's nuclear sites. The United States has been leading an effort to persuade North Korea to open its nuclear facilities to international inspection, to allay fears it is building atomic arms. "Past experience shows that North Korea should not be trusted easily. One never knows what the North will do until they have done it," said one respected analyst.

-"We know the North has not much choice but to accept a deal. But North Korea does not always act the way we think it will."

Months of unproductive haggling between U.S. and North Korean officials failed to break the deadlock until last week, when there were signs a deal was in the offing.

North Korean leader Kim Il-Sung said Saturday his country had agreed to a joint statement with Washington paving the way for the nuclear dispute to be "settled fairly."

He did not give details but in a later announcement North Konea's Foreign Ministry sug-

MEXICO CITY (Agencies) -

The official death toil after three days of fighting between government forces and Indian insurgents in southeastern

Mexico has risen to at least 86.

s rebel forces appear to have en routed from most of the

According to the latest offionday by the

cial casualty count released

National Defence Ministry, at least 86 people have been killed; 51 rebels and seven soldiers outside San Cristobal De

Las Casas; and in Ocosingo

by towns were taken over in a

New Year's Day offensive launched by the so-called

Zapatista National Liberation

Army to draw attention to the impoverished southeastern

Chiapas state and alleged government repression of indige-

Chiapas state authorities reported that the army bad routed the Zapatistas from all the locations they occupied.

except in Altamirano, which a top official said was still in

They said rebel forces had nous people there.

rebel hands.

San Cristobal and five near-towns they held.

gested international monitors would only be allowed into the country's seven declared nuclear sites for one-time inspecwarships to international waters off the Japanese on standby during the crisis in January

1987, said the Joongang Daily.

the event visitors who called on him on New Year.

It said Mr. Chun recounted

The near-crisis occurred as the two Koreas were vying to pick up a North Korean medic-al doctor, Kim Man-Chul, and his family who had stowed

away to Japan on a fishing boat and were about to be expelled

to take them in, there was a dangerous moment when the two sides came close to an armed clash at sea," the former military general turned president said. "At that time, I

The crisis was defused by the United States, which stepped in to persuade Tokyo to change the expulsion plans and fly the family to a third coun-

Taiwan accepted Dr. Kim

and his family at South Korea's request and later allowed them

Asked what he would have done if the crisis had erupted

into an armed conflict, Mr.

Chun said: "I was prepared for

Mr. Chun's top aide, Min Jung-Ki, said Mr. Chun often took the opportunity of meetings with visitors to stress the importance of a strong defence posture against the North.

Mr. Chun, who turns 62 on

Jan. 18, led a rebellion within the military hierarchy and rose to power the following year.

He was president from August

Mr. Chun was succeeded by his military academy classmate and former general, Roh Tae-Woo. Mr. Roh was replaced by

Kim Young-Sam, a former opposition politician, who launched the first civilian government in 32 years in Febru-

to assist the armed forces in their operations throughout

Also in his first public comment on the insurrection, President Carlos Salinas De Gortari Monday denounced the violence in Chiapas state and

"In Mexico we will always seek the rule of law, peaceful defence of human rights." Mr.

De Gortari said in a statement issued in here. "Violent acts delay a real solution to social

The armed peasants

apparently have links to Guatemalan leftist rebels and other Central American groups, a senior Mexican offi-remarks in response to questions about statements made earlier Monday by Guatemalan officials who said Guatemalan rebels may be working

Central American elements

and armed groups, mainly

Guatemalans, but no links to any specific groups or orga-nisations," said the senior offi-

There are many signs of

with the Zapatistas

The senior official made his called for dialogue.

needs.

1980 to February 1988.

a clash.'

to resettle in South Korea.

decided to risk a war."

'In the course of the efforts

by Tokyo to the open sea.

This falls short of the regular and ad hoc visits required by the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) under the nuclear non-proliferation treaty, of which North Korea is a signatory.

A senior official in Washington would not discuss details of the deal with North Korea, but indicated the Pyongyang announcement reflected its North Korea threatened last March to withdraw from the treaty, increasing fears in the United States and South Korea that it may move aggressively ahead with a nuclear arsenal.

An official at the South Korean Defence Ministry said it was certain that cancelling Team Spirit, annual military exercises involving South Korean and U.S. troops, would be one of the conditions attached to any deal.

North Korea says Team Spirit is a dress rehearsal for nuclear invasion, while the South and the United States describe it as a defensive exer-

The cancellation of Team Spirit has for years been a basic requirement of the North before agreeing to better North-

News reports have speculated that if agreement on nuclear inspections was reached smoothly, U.S. and North Korean officials would meet again to discuss a "package deal" of economic incentives in return for broader inspection rights.

North and South Korea were on the verge of an armed clash at sea which could have led to all-out war in 1987, a major daily in Seoul said Tuesday quoting former President Chun

Both Koreas dispatched

although local residents still reported heavy fighting late

All access routes to the state capital of Tuxtla Gutierez were under army surveillance amid rumours that Zapatista rebels were nearby, a Chiapas official

Local officials also reported that the military had arrested apparently implicated in the kidnapping earlier Monday of the former Chiapas Governor

Besides the official death toll of 86, military authorities said

tht 27 Zapatistas were killed in Ocosingo, while press reports spoke of some 60 people in more than 30 hours of fighting.

that 21 local police officers and seven civilians had been killed

since Jan. 1 in San Cristobal,

Albamirano, Chanal and Las

Margaritas, and that 30 people were wounded, one of them a

Press reports indicated that

Chiapas Governor Elman

Zetzer, in a public address.

called for people "not to give more than 100 peoeple had

Chiapas state officials said

Abasalon Castellanos.

Death toll in Mexican uprising hits 86

dead in Australian bushfires

SYDNEY - a Firefighter was killed Tuesday and a second was seriously injured as they battled eastern Australia's worst bushfires in 15 years, police said. The casualties occurred when a burnt tree crashed onto a fire engine at Grafton on the Pacific Highway, a major trunk route linking Sydney and Brisbane, which has been cut by the fires. Traffic was being diverted early Tuesday. The fatality was the second in the fires which have already destroyed at least six homes and are threatening thousands more. Up to 10 areas of New South Wales have been classified as being under a state of emergency, as about 70 separate fires, fuelled by searing heat and strong winds, blazed across the state late Monday and early Tuesday. Two thousand firefighters are battling the flames. The photograph shows the bushfire closing in on the small town of Spencer, bordering the Duraq National Park north of Sydney (AFP photo)

Sarajevo shelled ahead of peace talks

SARAJEVO (R) - A huge explosion shook Sarajevo Tuesday as hillside gunners shelled the besieged Bosnian capital hours before Croatian-Muslim peace talks began in

One person was killed and at least ten wounded in shelling. which forced people to run for cover in the debris.

A police station in the city centre took a direct hit and a huge fireball blasted its roof off, filling the street with wisted metal. Local reporters believed it was hit by a rocket. The bombardment started ust hours before Croatian and Bosnian ministers met in Vienna to try to stop fighting between Muslims and Croats in central Bosnia.

It was the first round of Bosnian peace negotiations of 1994. Talks including the third warring faction, the Serbs, are set for Geneva in two weeks

Sarajevo had already been bombarded Monday, when a total of 14 people died and a single shell wiped out an entire family of six, the United Nations reported Tuesday. Croatian Foreign Minister Mate Granic and Bosnian Prime Minister Haris Silaidzic were meeting in Vienna's imperial Hofburg Palace, begin-ning a crucial period for prospects of ending the Bosnia conflict. International mediator Lord

MOSCOW (AFP) — Russian

President Boris Yeltsin has invited his Ukrainian counterpart. Leonid Kraychuk, to Moscow to take part in summit

talks with U.S. President Bill

Clinton, Interfax News Agency

said Tuesday quoting Foreign Ministry sources.

this month.

Owen suggested that United Nations troops in Bosnia could be withdrawn in the spring if peace talks make no progress in the next two months. The new round coincides with the beginning of Greece's six-month presidency of the European Union giving rise to speculation that Athens, as a traditional ally of Serbia, will pull out the stops to broker a breakthrough agreement.

"We have to solve this problem before the spring. Otherwise the belligerents will try new military operations. Greek European Affairs Minister Theodoros Pangalos was Tuesday quoted as saying.

Lord Owen told British radio the United Nations could not justify pulling out during the harsh Balkan winter as this would cause enormous suffering to ordinary civilians. But he said U.N. food was frequently channelled to fighters on all three sides.

"We are changing the ba-lance of the war and in a way keeping it going but we can justify keeping it going as long as there is a real chance that the political and military leaders are taking the peace process seriously," he said.

"If they're really just using the peace process as a shelter behind which they continue the war, come the end of the winter I think people will have to reassess the role of the U.N.

In Brussels, the Defence Minsitry said the commander of U.N. forces in Bosnia, General Francis Briquemont, may leave his post early and return to Belgium.

Gen. Briquemont, an outspoken critic of political efforts to end the fighting in Bosnia, had been scheduled to leave in July but a ministry spokesman said the general had asked in December to return early.

In Sarajevo, the U.N. said

the United States was about to double the number of planes dropping relief supplies over Bosnia. "The military airdrop capability over Bosnia will be expanded considerably in the near future," said Ray Wilkinson, spokesman for the UNited Nations High Commissioner for Refugees. "Within the next few days the number of aircraft will be

These will be mainly American, although the French and Germany are considering raising their contributions."

Of the eight aircraft already flying nightly airdrop mission, increased (from eight) to 17.

six are American C-130s, France and Germany have each contributed one aircraft

Airdrops of relief supplies over Bosnia started in March efforts by land were stymied in some Muslim enclaves threatened by Serb forces.

Yeltsin invites Kravchuk to join summit Clinton would not go to Kiev and Mr. Kravchuk would not

chuk could travel to Minsk,

Interfax news agency in chuk's) presence in Moscow is to confirm all engagements. without exception, of which is a part," the diplomat said. referring specifically to the 1991 START treaty and the nuclear non-proliferation treaty (NPT).

Officials in Kiev confirmed The Ukrainian president has the invitation had been exbeen seeking a face-to-face tended but declined to commeeting with Mr. Clinton for ment on whether it would be some months, but Ukraine's accepted or not. delay in ratifying START Interfax, quoting a seniorprompted the cancellation of ranking Russian diplomat, said it was at present "difficult" to say if there would be a trilateral summit in Moscow, noting it would depend on Mr. Kravchuk's response to the invita"The idea of his (Kravbe invited to Washington until Ukraine's position on its nuclear missiles was clarified. But a Ukrainian official suggested Monday that Mr. Krav-where Mr. Clinton is due to meet Belarus leader Stanislav Shushkevich on Jan. 15 following his summit talks in Mos-Ukraine Monday also quoted two planned Kravchuk trips to an informed source as saying that Mr. Kravchuk could meet U.S. officials who travelled Mr. Clinton and Mr. Yeltsin in Moscow on Jan. 14 to sign an to Kiev to Secretary of State agreement on "basic questions Warren Christopher last October made it clear that Mr. of nuclear disarmament."

revives N. Ireland peace hopes

Sinn Fein

DUBLIN (R) - The leader of the IRA's political wing Sinn Fein has given a guarded welcome to an Anglo-Irish peace plan for Northern Ireland in a landmark speech that may revive its chances of success.

Gerry Adams, president of Sinn Fein, told supporters that a Dec. 15 declaration by British Prime Minister John Major and Irish Premier Albert Reynolds had for the first time recognised the right of all Irish people to shape their future.

The deadlock has not yet been broken, but the key issue of national self-determination has at least been identified." he told activists in predominantly Catholic West Belfast.

It was the first time Mr. Adams had said anything positive about the declaration, which sets out principles to end 25 years of war by the Irish Republican Army (IRA) against British rule of the pro-

Since the declaration was unveiled. Sinn Fein has been critical because it fails to acknowledge that Ireland should be united to include the North. which stayed under British rule when the island was partitioned 70 years ago.

Hardline statements by Sinn Fein over the weekend together with a surge of IRA violence and signs of a new campaign by Protestant ex-tremists raised fears that the peace package may be close to collapse.

Mr. Adams' speech was heavily qualified, but its tone contrasted sharply with the dismissive note both he and fellow leader Martin McGuinness have struck in recent days.

The two men hve said it will be weeks before Sinn Fein gives its formal response to the declaration and have called in vain for direct talks with London and Dublin, who have replied that there can be no discussions until the IRA ends

A spokesman for Mr. Major said Mr. Adams' comments would be examined. "We will study Mr. Adams' words very carefully but what the people of Northern Ireland need is a sign from the terrorists that there will be a permanent cessation of their violence.

Mr. Adams welcomed the fact that the declaration says the people of Ireland and Northern Ireland should have a say in the future of their island -- national self-determination. But he made clear that Republicans object to the way the declaration gives the 60-40 Protestant majority in Northern Ireland a veto over any moves to change their British status.

Most so-called lovalist politicians in Unionist parties which want to maintain 300-year-old links with Britain have grudgingly welcomed the plan because it enshrines their right to block unification. Mr. Adams warned that unless this was changed, violence between the IRA and security forces as well as attacks by Protestant gunmen on the Catholic minority would continuc.

Japanese see less need to marry — paper

oscoigne to play

MIF(R) — England in Mississippi (1997)

Maurizo Manzi

requires two west same in the same in the same with the same in th

part asparaling displa

take trun of form

where mid-rable

sifu lialian newsc

myeric modern to the table played only seven

An Italian newsy speak appearances had sale sale per minute lialian internation and lialian internation and neatherns.

and the brobletties.

lyphy ban quash

INDON (R) - Decla

MADON (K) — Usela

may neurred the suspended address of the suspended address Address Address of the suspended addr

on offence. accepted his mount in his favour, deci

Star seven time

pands of the race. The p

Murphy had the fu

kilan Games shou

DKTO (AP) - Japan s

maporate contribution apporate billion ven (S

many committee sa

spinos to raise the mic

a Ohmpies can't De water measures to

concruic slowdew;

me their advertising

animons to the Asia

In he said, the co

alexand officials expe

reperted to be 25.0 billi

zammittee planned t

and aponsors or officia

rationed from subsecti

sesson fees. Fukushi

Inguera pulls Ot

组DE (R) — Fi

ingues has pulled ou

case of injury. 2 (e)

homen the world's

are Vimbledon cha ore offence, accepted his ore for the good o pred for the good o american in the appropriate the good last July. The land on he for our (manizio Manzin

TOKYO (R) - An increasing number of Japanese believe women need not marry. according to a poll by the daily Mainichi Shimbun. About 28 per cent of respondents thought women should not have to marry if they were economically independent while 58 per cent said women should marry, the daily said Tuesday. In a 1987 government poll, 74 per cent of Japanese said marriage was necessary and 21 per cent said it was not. "This change in artitude gives a sense of foreboding, of the destruction of a society in which marriage is the norm, and takes (Japan) a step further toward a society of fewer children," the newspaper said. The Mainichi poll. taken in December in cooperation with a life insurance company, covered 2,526 adults nationwide. A record low 1.21 million babies were born in Japan in 1992, down by about 14,000 from 1991. The average number of children born to a Japanese woman in her lifetime fell to a post-war low of 1.5 in 1992.

Pure as the driven snake

SEOUL (R) — South Korean men be warned — favoured items listed by their women include babies, snakes, frogs and cats. A survey of more than 1,000 women published Tuesday by a cosmetics com-pany showed that babies were considered the purest ! _____s on earth, followed by water and then women. From the animal kingdom, winners in the purity stakes were cats, followed by snakes and little green frogs. The most impure items, according to the poll carried by the Yonhap domestic news agency, included men, short hair, mops, black coffee and money.

Customs men see through monkey business

COLOGNE (AFP) — Customs officers at Cologne-Bonn airport smelled a rat Monday when they spotted a holidaymaker with a suspiciously over endowed upper body and found a baby monkey hidden under her blouse. The woman, an Italian resident in the western region of Hessen, was returning from a holiday in Brazil when her attempt to smuggle in the tiny creature cials said. She is expected to be find. The baby monkey, who is about the size of a human fist, was taken to a zoo in nearby Duisburg, they said. The exportation of live primates is outlawed under the Washington Convention for Protected Species.

Burt, Loni to face off at Jan. 26 court hearing

STUART, Fla. (R) — A judge set a hearing for later this month to determine if movie star Burt Reynolds will be ordered to pay temporary alimony to estranged wife Loni Anderson. Lawyers for the sparring couple appeared briefly before Martin County Circuit Court Judge Paul Kanarek to set the Jan. 26 date for a hearing. Both stars are expected to appear at the hearing later this month. Anderson, the star of the NBC-TV show Nurses, claimed in recent court documents that she was nearly broke and needed temporary alimony to supplement the child support payments she aiready receives from Reynolds. She has also requested that Reynolds pay a variety of other experts' fees required during the couple's divorce proceeding. An attorny for Reynolds, who stars in the CBS show Evening Shade, has said that Anderson is employed and does not need the money. Although Anderson earned $1.7 million during the couples' marriage, court documents showed that most of her income was spent on living expenses and child care for the couple's adopted son, Quin-

Rainier denies he is to remarry

MONACO (AFP) - Monaco's Prince Rainier categorically denied Tuesday British and Italian tabloid reports that he plans to marry Hjordis Niven, the widow of the late actor David Niven. Rainier's press office said the prince last saw Hjordis in 1983 when he attended her husband's funeral in Switzerland. "One wonders how such a rumour, without any basis, could have spread," Jacqueline Berti, the prince's chief spokesperson said.

been expelled from Ocosingo. in to panic and rumours," and 97 bodies found after Russian plane crash

perished in the uprising.

MOSCOW (R) - Russian rescuers working through the debris of a passenger plane which crashed Monday killing at least 120 people had pieced together 97 hodies for identification by Tuesday, a local official said. You cannot call some of them bodies in the full sense of the word as we have had to put together pieces blown apart. Alexander Kamentsky, head of the Irkutsk Civil Defence Service, told Reuters by tele-He said most of the 16 foreigners, who were in the front of the Tupolev 154 plane, which took the main force of the impact, were mutilated beyond recognition.

Officials said Monday the plane crashed and burst into flames after an engine caught fire just 12 minutes after taking off from the Siberian city of Irkutsk en route for Moscow. The blazing plane broke up 300 metres (1,000 feet) from the village of Mamony after crashing into farmhouses and powerlines. Mr. Kamentsky said the body of one farmer was found near the blazing craft. ITAR-TASS news agency said 100 cattle had been killed.

Officials reported bodies strewn over a radius of three kilometres. All those aboard

TASS, quoting unofficial sources, said Tuesday there had been four more passengers on the plane, who had not been included in the passenger le unlisted passengers on overbooked planes to make extra money. The TASS information, if confirmed, would raise the death toll to 124 on board the plane.

Cambodian army warns of offensive

PHNOM PENH (R) - Cam-Sodia's armed forces Tuesday warned the Khmer Rouge of en imminent attack and urged guerrillas to defect to avoid what analysts said could be the biggest anti-rebel offensive in five years.

The ultimate aim of the dryseason offensive was the recapture of the Khmer Rouge's headquarters in western Pailin. a senior government official said.

"The headquarters of the Royal Cambodian Armed Forces would like to appeal to all D.K. (Democratic Kampuchea or Khmer Rouge) officers and rank and file to urgently return to the national community in order to avoid the upcoming confrontation." state-run radio said.

The appeal was part of a military bulletin included in the radio's morning news re-

It was preceded by a demand from Cambodia's two prime ministers, Prince Norodom Ranariddh and Hun Sen, for the guerrillas to join in national reconciliation. More than 3,000 Khmer

Rouge had defected to the government side since August bringing with them "thousands of assorted weapons and tonnes of ammunition", a radio announcer said.

"Please stop following the recalcitrant Khmer Rouge

- nine crew members and 111 passengers -- were killed.

Crew members often smug-

leadership who always harbour war ambitions which will lead

On Monday, a senior Cambodian officer told Reuters the army was planning a major dry-season attack against the Khmer Rouge's northern headquarters this to the destruction of the national community and of the entire Cambodian kingdom.

General Long Sopheap, commander of the fourth military region which includes the strategic frontline provinces of Siem Reap, Preah Vihear and Kompong Thom, hoped to capture the Khmer Rouge's main base at Anlong Veng, he Party (LDP), now the main apposition.

TOKYO (R) — Prime Minister Morihiro Hosokawa. attempting to calm jitters about his tenuous hold on power. said Tuesday he has no plans to call snap elections or resign if he fails a crucial leadership test Mr. Hosokawa political foture could lie in tatters in four through parliament his pack-age of long-promised political bills, including anti-corruption laws and plans to revamp the electoral system. "I'm not thinking at all of dissolving parliament (for snap elections) or resigning along with my cabinet," Mr. Hoso-

kawa said, attempting to quash speculation about his uncertain "I will put all my effort into passing the reform bills," he weeks' time if he fails to pass

said in a televised news confer-Mr. Hosokawa, looking relaxed after a week's holiday, met reporters after calling on the Ise Shrine in western Japan, a popular New Year's destination for leaders seeking good fortune. Mr. Hosokawa was swept to power last August on promises he would clean up politics in the wake of numerous pay-off scandals involving mostly politicians of the longdominant Liberal Democratic

Hosokawa attempts to calm fears about

But the LDP, still furning over losing its 38-year grip on power in July general elections, delayed passage of the reform bills and forced the eight-group ruling coalition to extend the parliamentary session by 45 days until the end of January.

"If he fails on reform a second time, Hosokawa will come under a lot of pressure from the media, the opposition and even his own coalition to resign and/or call elections," said columnist Reiko Tamura. "But I think he has a good chance of succeeding because no-one wants more political and economic instability," she said. "Elections would hamper any improvement in the cconomy.

In parliament Tuesday. coalition party representatives agreed to re-open debate on political reform in the upper house the next day, with or without the LDP's participation. They said they hoped to win final approval of the bills, which have already cleared the lower house, by mid-January.

Criticism is growing over Mr. Hosokawa's foot-dragging on drafting effective measures to revive the stagnant eco-

The latest poll Tuesday showed that while 66 per cent of the presidents of Japan's leading 100 firms supported Mr. Hosokawa, 84 per cent were unhappy with his per-formance on the economy.

At his news conference, Mr.

Hosokawa attempted to sides-

ten the issue of what his government would do to boost the economy, now in its worst downturn in two decades. Although he said late last year he wanted to cut income taxes to help bolster the economy, he has yet to unveil details such as the timing and scale of tax cuts. "I want to think about it after receiving the recommendations of a government and ruling coalition liaison group on the economy in the middle of the month." he said.

Mr. Hosokawa has been forced to delay a decision in order to win over the Socialists and other alliance partners who oppose a plan to balance the tax cuts with a nike in the consumption or sales tax, now at three per cent.

Meanwhile, five lawmakers who defected from Japan's main opposition Liberal Democratic Party (LDP) formed a small parliamentary group Tuesday to support, but not join, Mr. Hosôkawa's his future coalition government.

"I intend to cooperate with the Hosokawa government on political reforms and economic measures." ex-Education Minister Takeo Nishioka told a news conference.

He said, however, his fivemember group would not join Mr. Hosokawa's coalition.

The group adds more weight to Mr. Hosokawa's base. The prime minister can now count on the support of 266 in the 511-seat lower house, the more decisive of the two chambers. while the LDP sank to 222 scats. Mr. Nishioka's group called on LDP upper house members to join them. Mr. Nishioka and three others quit the LDP last month when the party leadership ordered its members to boycott a vote to extend the parliamentary session until Jan. 29. Another influential member of parliament. Kunio Hatoyama, joined Mr. Nishioka's group, called the "Kaikaku-no-kai," or the Reformist Group. Mr. Hatoyama quit the LDP last June and had remained an independent.

Last June, the corruptionridden LDP lost about 55 lower house members who subsequently formed two new par-sense from the Mei's extinitied to begin la Callenge in vitation: benacentact to say the ജ്ജിയ ബ്രമ്പമനുക്കർ dia שמוש מב מבו באשל ≥ Aédade tournamer SuCouner, the defendi kelid in Adelaide : Manis Stefan Editerg ka Open is being sta armen lan 17 ard 3 Latigue keeps ! MRIS(AFP) — Franc mak in the Paris-Dak stand behind compater

200. The 450km 1257 he More excelling the iser. Aunol finished be the fourth spot over issobshi and Brune ! and delighted with

GOF MTH OMAR SHARIF A TANKAH HIRSCH ANOTHER LESS NORTH A Q 8 2 R J 10 7

± 10 g ₄

3 NT P

of spremier bridge:

A has just issued hat
the bins one on ...

A has just issued hat
the bins one on ...

A has been T

A has b

NEWS IN BRIEF

Gascoigne to play despite cracked rib

ROME (R) - England midfielder Paul Gascoigne could play for his Italian club Lazio Sunday despite a cracked rib, team manager Maurizio Manzini said Tuesday. "This type of injury normally requires two weeks' rest but the club doctor has said Gascoigne might be able to play on if he is properly strapped up," said Manzini, "The rib is not broken, it is only cracked." The injury-jinxed Englishman suffered a knock during Sunday's 1-1 draw with Sampdoria, coming off early in the second half after a sparkling display during the first 45 minutes. Lazio. whose recent run of form has seen them climb to fifth in the league, travel to mid-table Foggia Sunday. Gascoigne has only recently returned to the team after an achilles tendon injury and has played only seven of Lazio's 17 league matches this season. An Italian newspaper last week calculated that his sporadic appearances had cost the Italian club an average of around $530 per minute in wages over the past 18 months. Lazio's Italian international striker Giuseppe Signori also has fresh injury problems.

Murphy ban quashed

y the day
About 1 Pondent
nould be apendent
apendent
daily sa 7 govern cent of

riage to change it se of ion

uction of

riage is the pan) a set society of memorals point to the point to the

и слорея

ance con

d low 13

e bom i n by above

ne avera

שו עוניס

her h ith Kong

- favour

kes, m y of me

ietics as abies 🔫

SI " TEQ

water a

the anie

the pur

Diowed h

reen from

re item

Carried

estic 🛌

nen, she offee a see

) — Gr

ogne-Bæ

at Mone

d a bot

USDICION

er bodynonkey be

ouse. It

of Hessa

a holidara

CTEXT

รเดาร เช็

rected the human is

) is near!

d. The s

primates:

e Washin

Protect

ace

— Ajude

later the e if mos

is will k

·poran #

s for 18

appearsi

in Coussidge Fish

h siais et

at the jest

th. Astr. e NBCIV.

ed in recent

121 she we

eeded 169

suppleme

ymens st

es frot

s also e olds par pers le couple

wife los

(ey

LONDON (R) — Declan Murphy had a two-day ban for excessive use of the whip lifted by the Jockey Club Tuesday. Murphy incurred the suspension from stewards at Kempton Park after riding Bradbury Star to a close second behind Irish compatriot Adrian Maguire on Barton Bank in the King George VI Steeplechase on Dec. 27. Maguire, banned for the same offence, accepted his punishment, but Murphy elected to appeal "for the good of racing." He claimed there were inconsistencies in the application of the new whip guidelines introduced last July. The Jockey Club Disciplinary Committee found in his favour, deciding that although Murphy had hit Bradbury Star seven times without undue severity in the final 15 strides of the race, the gelding was clearly responding to the whip. Murphy had the full backing of winning trainer David Nicholson and Jockeys' Association Secretary Michael Caul-

Asian Games short of funds

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's prolonged economic slump has cut into corporate contributions, leaving the 1994 Asian Games still about 2 billion yen ($18 million) short of their target, the organising committee said Tuesday. Takayoshi Fukushima, the committee's secretary-general, said the committee will do its utmost to raise the money since costs for Asia's version of the Olympics can't be cut. He declined to elaborate on possible new measures to cope with the shortfall. "Because of the economic slowdown, many Japanese companies are cutting their advertising expenses and are reluctant to make contributions to the Asian Games," Fukushima said. As of Dec. 31, he said, the committee had raised 5.5 billion yen ($48.7 million) through corporate sponsorships. The 15-day games open on Oct. 2 in Hiroshima, western Japan, with 7,300 athletes and officials expected from 42 nations. The total cost is expected to be 28.9 billion yen ($255.7 million). Of the total, the committee planned to raise 7.5 billion yen ($66 million) through contracts with enterprises that would be designated as official sponsors or official suppliers. The remaining funds will be obtained from subsidies from local governments and from admission fees, Fukushima said.

Bruguera pulls out of Australian Open

ADELAIDE (R) — French Open tennis champion Sergi Bruguera has pulled out of this month's Australian Open because of injury, a tennis official said Tuesday. Spaniard Bruguera, the world's number four ranked player, joins former Wimbledon champion Andre Agassi as a notable absentee from the Melbourne Grand Slam event. Bruguera was scheduled to begin his open preparations at next weeks. Rio Challenge invitational tournament in Adelaide. "Sergi has been in contact to say that he will not be coming to Australia," said Rio tournament director Graeme Hannan. Hannan said Bruguera had an unspecified injury and would the Adelaide tournament by French veteran Henri Leconte. Jim Courier, the defending Australian Open champion, heads the field in Adelaide where his main challenger will be Sweden's Stefan Edberg, the world number five. The Australian Open is being staged at Melbourne's Flinders Park between Jan. 17 and 30.

Lartigue keeps lead in Paris-Dakar Rally

PARIS (AFP) — France's Pierre Lartigue kept ahead of his rivals in the Paris-Dakar Rally overall standings, finishing second behind compatriot Hubert Auriol in the ninth special stage. The 450km test between Chameau and Zoulou saw both Citroens excel-in the intense heat of the Western Sahara Desert. Auriol finished six minutes ahead of Lartigue, putting him into fourth spot overall, ahead of Jean-Pierre Fontenay's Mistsubishi and Bruno Musmarra. "The car was perfect," said Auriol, delighted with his victory.

GOREN BRIDGE

WITH OMAR SHARIF

ANOTHER LESSON TAPE FROM THE MASTER

♦ 6 5 BAST WEST ±76 ∇A95 ♦982 4 10 9 4 3 ♥ 8 4 2 SOUTH • K J 5 • Q 6 3 • A 7 4 • A 9 8 2

The bidding: South West North East 1  $\phi$  Pass 1  $\nabla$  Pass 1 NT Pass Pass Pass

Pass Pass
Opening lead?
America's premier bridge teacher,
Bill Root, has just issued his fourth lesson tape—this one on opening leads (Bill Root's Lesson Tape IV, two hours, $39.95 postpaid. Available from Root Hahn Enterprises, POR 7205 Heights Str. Concerd P.O.B. 7205 Heights Sta., Concord, N.H. 03301) The material, as always, is thoughtful and germane, and the technical quality of the pro-duction continues to improve. This hand is from the first section:

"Choosing the Right Card to Lead." Consider only the West hand. North-South have reached three no rump on a power auction and you have to select an opening lead.
You are unlikely to find partner with more than 6-7 points and there's no reason to suspect that East bolds a suit better than your than Therefore you got selected the clubs. Therefore, you cleared the first hurdle if you elected to lead a club, regardless of the fact that South opened the bidding in that suit.

The textbooks will tell you that the card to lead from your holding is the top of the sequence, i.e., the queen. And that would be the right lead had the suit not been bid by either of your opponents. Under the given circumstances, though, your best shot is to lead a low club! Now look at all four hands. Note that, with a low club lead, the contract must be defeated. If, instead, you choose to lead a club honor, an unblock of the king by East allows declarer to win with the ace and be guaranteed a second stopper in the suit. And if East does not jettison the king, declarer can sever commu-nications by simply holding up for two rounds. Rither way, the con-

by German pair at Hopman Cup PERTH, Australia (R) — Ivan Lendl's debut for the United week deflecting enquiries about how long he intends to States proved an embarrassing flop Tuesday as his adopted country were swept out of the Hopman Cup team tournament by unseeded Germany.

The Czech-born Lendl, who became an American citizen in July 1992, and partner Mary Joe Fernandez were outplayed by the more youthful German duo of Bernd Karbacher and Anke Huber who waltzed into the semifinals after convincing singles wins. Lendl, now 33, was hammered 6-3 6-1 by the pencilthin Karbacher after Fernandez had been coolly taken apart 6-2 7-6 by Huber. Ironically, two of Lendl's former compatriots did clinch a place in the last four when the top-seeded Czech Republic

beat Switzerland 2-1 largely thanks to the in-form Petr Lendl has been busy this keep playing and his stuttering performance against Kar-bacher will do little to quell the

Lendl's American dream dashed

He made a string of errors in the first set, barely hit a third of his first serves in and squandered a 40-0 lead in the opening game of the second game of the second set which gave his 25-year-old opponent even more confidence.

Karbacher had already sensed his first career win over Lendl was a possibility and, timing the ball sweetly, clinched victory after 73 minutes. "It tells me quite a few things about my game. I didn't play very well," admitted Lendl. "Whether it was lack of match play or not, we will

Karbacher conceded he had been freed from pressure by again in the late afternoon.

it's very difficult to play."

"It's very hot out there and

Austrian teenager Barbara

Schett was forced to withdraw with heat exhaustion during first eight games of her match against tiny French player Lea

first time, I thought I can beat him," he said. "I tried to dominate him ... you have to take risks if you're playing a top

Huber, who has been practising all week in the regular company of Andrei Medvedev, was similarly unbothered by Fernandez, a rival with the three Grand Slam finals to her credit.

She took the decisive second set tie-break 7-4 when Fernandez dumped a backhand in the net and said her form gave her confidence for the Australian tournament last year when Michael Stich and Steffi Graf formed the team, now meet fellow non-seeds Austria in Thursday's second semifinal.

Germany, who won the

The Czech combination of Korda and Jana Novotna face Australia in the other other proposition for the home nation if Korda repeats the form which dazzled Swiss pair Jakob Hlasek and Manuela Malceva-Fragniere.

Korda, who beat world top two Pete Sampras and Michael Stich on successive days to win the Grand Slam Cup last month, destroyed Hlasek 6-0 6-2 and his contribution then tipped the scales in the decisive mixed doubles.

Novotna had earlier given her partner plenty to do by losing her singles match against Maleva-Fragniere 6-4 7-5.

Last year's Wimbledon finalist has yet to win a singles match at the event in three attempts. In contrast, Maleeva-Fraggniere's success on her final visit to the Burswood Dome before retirement was her sixth in seven singles rubbers stretching back to

Maleeva wins, attacks conditions at Australian hardcourt

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) - Top seed Magdalena Maleeva scored a straight-sets second-round victory in the Australian Women's Hardcourt Tennis Championship Tuesday and then criticised the organisers for permitting play in searing hot conditions.

The 19-year-old Bulgarian played impressively in defeating American Audra Keller 6-4, 6-3 and then said it was too dangerous to compete in temperatures that soared to 55 degrees Celsius (131 Fahrenheit) on centre court at the Milton Tennis centre.

The heat proved too much for seventh-seeded Stephanic Rottier of the Netherlands, who withdrew from her match against Japan's Rika Hiraki suffering from heat exhaus-"I don't know if we should play under these conditions. Maleeva said. "Is it normal? "Maybe it would be better if we started very early in the morning, had a break during the day and then started up

ROME (R) — Italian champions AC Milan can extend their lead in the title race over their nearest challengers

Sampdoria and Juventus to four points if they beat

The match at Udinese was originally scheduled for Dec.

12 but was postponed because

Milan played Sao Paulo of Brazil in the World Cup final

Despite losing in Japan and

despite a surprise Italian Cup defeat by Piacenza last month,

Milan have defied their critics

by continuing to show the way

Sunday's 1-0 win at Reggiana came in a game which saw Milan reduced to 10 men for nearly an hour, following the first-half sending-off of

French striker Jean-Pierre

Marcel Desailly restored Gallic honour by scoring the winning

Milan's other Frenchman

in Tokyo on that day.

in the league.

Office:

Residence

able for rent.

Udinese Thursday.

AC Milan have chance

SEEKING EMPLOYMENT

Thirty-one-year-old Jordanian, having driving licence, masters English language, both written and spoken, requires a job for an Arab or foreign family. If interested, please call tel. 680452 Mr. Eid.

DUTY FREE CAR FOR SALE

FURNISHED VILLA FOR RENT

Consists of three bedrooms, sitting, living, dining & TV rooms.

Contains deluxe furniture, with spacious kitchen, garden and garage. Located near the Seventh Circle.

Please call 671860 or 814004 from 9:30 a.m. till 6:30

N.B. A furnished flat of one bedroom is also avail-

to extend their lead

the final set of her match against Belgian Sandra Wasserman Monday. American Lindsay Davenport, the No. 2 seed, took the Ghirardi and won 6-0, 6-3. Davenport said she struggled with her timing after a two-month layoff. "I still feel a little awkward but that's understandable considering it's my first match in a while," the 17-year-old said. Davenport said she felt that playing in the Brisbane heat was good preparation for the Australian Open, which starts Jan. 17 in Melbourne.

"It's cooler in Melbourne, so if you can play in this you can play in anything," she said. Australian Rachel McQuillan upset fifth seed Julie

Halard of France 6-3, 6-2 in goal - his first for the club - and is certain to retain his place against Udinese.

Among Milan's walking

wounded are Dutchman Marco

Van Basten, Croat Zvonimir

Boban and Italian Stefano Era-

nio, Demetrio Albertini and

Gigi Lentini who will all miss

With Papin suspended,

Romanian Florin Raducioiu

Milan coach Fabio Capello has his options unusually limited.

will probably return to partner Daniele Massaro in attack,

with Desailly playing alongside

Montenegrin Dejan Savicevic,

Roberto Donadoni and Alessandro Orlando in midfield.

Sunday by Juventus, are currently struggling in second-to-last place with only 10 points.

der Alessandro Calori and midfielder Stefano Desideri,

both suspended for the Juven-

(07:00-14:00) 696240/1

They welcome back defen-

Udinese, beaten 3-0 at home

the match.

another second-round match, while 15th-seeded Russian Elena Likhovtseva was beaten 6-4, 6-2 by Sandrine Testud of France in a first-round contest.

Fourth-seeded Sabine Hack of Germany beat Italian Silvia Farina 6-3, 6-2 in a secondround match.

American Tracy Austin, who is playing only in the doubles, suffered a first-round Australians Catherine Barclay and Kerry-Anne Guse beat Austin and Shannan McCarthy 6-1, 6-3.

In Adelaide, top-seeded Thomas Muster of Austria, winner of seven tournaments in 1993, beat American Ryan Shelton 6-2, 6-2 Tuesday in the first ground of the $313,750 Australian Hardcourt Tennis Championships.

Defending champion Nicklas Kulti of Sweden sent second-seeded Marc Rosset of Switzerland packing, beating the Olympic champion 7-6 (7-

Richard Fromberg of Au-

has won Wimbledon, the U.S.

and Australian Opens twice

each in his glittering career,

may be the third oldest player competing in the Qatar Open.

tus, he said Tuesday he still sees another two golden years ahead before he starts to feel

"I'm not afraid of facing age," said Edberg, who turns 28 in two weeks.
"I think I can probably have another two good years. After that I think it will be tough to keep the consistency but you can still play some good tennis," he said in an interview.

"I have got the experience

so if I can stay healthy, I don't think I will have any problems for a while," said Edberg, the day after he defeated South Africa's Gary Muller to book a second round place in the $525,000 Qatar Open.

only fellow Swede, Anders Jarryd, who is 32, and Haiti's

Ronald Agenor, 29, are older.

Jarryd meets Edberg in the

"I think it's a matter of second round here.

Of the players taking part,

his age.

But, despite his veteran sta-

Edberg has 2 more years

DOHA (Agencies) - Swedish keeping your determination

tennis star Stefan Edberg, who because you can keep yourself

stralia spoiled Swede Mat Wilander's 1994 debut, beating

Two other seeded players fell Tuesday — David Rikl of the Czech Republic beat fifthseeded Amos Mansdorf 6-4. 6-4, while Sweden's Jan Apell defeated sixth-seeded Andrei Chesnokov of Russia 6-2, 7-5.

The tournament also lost two Australian players to injury - former Wimbledon champion Pat Cash pulled out of the doubles, while Jason Stoltenberg withdrew only hours before his match with countryman Jamie Morgan.

Cash withdrew after aggravating an old back injury during the first set of Monday's first-round singles loss to Russia's Yevgeny Kafelnikov. The 1987 Wimbledon winner left for Melbourne winner left for treatment but said he hoped to play in next week's New South Wales Open in Sydney, where he has a singles wild card.

fit for a long time just like Ivan

Lendi and Jimmy Connors," added Edberg. "You can push

Edberg suffered a recurrence of an old back injury as he

ousted South Africa's Gary

Muller in the first round of the Third seed Edberg beat wild card entry Muller 6-1, 6-4, and was joined in the second round

by world number two and second seed Michael Stich,

who trounced unseeded

Frenchman Stephane Simian

originally sustained in the Australian Open last year and he blamed the rebound ace surface on which this tournament

"But the injury is not that serious, although I was feeling

it a little in the second set today. I'll just take it a day at a time and see how it goes," he

In the second round, Edberg takes on fellow Swede Anders.

Jarryd, who put out Henrik Holm, also of Sweden, 6-4,

Edberg said the injury was yourself in your thirties."

Qatar Open Monday.

6-2, 6-1.

is being played.

the former Australian, French and U.S. Open champion 6-3,

Top names seem to have

Meanwhile, 1992 champion

RACJ announces 1994 auto sports programme

By Aleen Bannayan Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN - Like all other sports enthusiasts, auto sports competitors are now enjoying a short break before they commence the 1994 calendar of events recently issued by organisers - the Royal Automobile Club of Jordan (RACJ).

Ten competitions are lined up for the upcoming season which will include three national rallies, four rallytours, the popular Rumman Hill Climb, a speed test and the crowning event of the season the Jordan International

Competitors, officials and press representatives will cap the 1993 auto sports season with the prize-giving ceremony at RACI Wednesday during which His Royal Highness Prince Faisal Ben Al Hussein will distribute awards to the top competitors of the season. 1993 saw the emergence of three new champions who dominated most events and won the top three places in the Jordan Drivers' Open Championship.

Amjad Farrah came in first place with 230 points and was crowned Jordan's new rally champion. Tarek Tabaa came in second with 156 points while Ahmad Al Daoud finished third with 137 points.

In 1992, Farrah had finished 11th, Tabaa 12th and Daoud 155th.

In the co-drivers open Faisal Sa'doun came in first with 115 points followed by Mou'nes Madani in second place with 70 points and Mahmoud Metwalli in third place with 67 points.

changed places in the 1993 competition where only four of the top ten retained their spots: Mahmoud Komok 5th, Majdi Al Jallad 6th, Sinan Saudi 7th and Bishara Quz'or

Marwan Abu Hamad dropped to 14th after missing most of the events and runner-up Reimon Fleifel dropped out of the top 30. In addition, Naser Bustami, Issa Halabi, Ghaith Bilbeisi and Faisal Jabri were remarked.

out of the top ten and were replaced by Farrah. Tabaa and Daoud in the top hree places and Bashar Bustami 4th. Ma'rouf Abu Symra 9th and Saleh Al Babe 10th. In 1994, I A CJ officials have announced that only one speedtest would take place. It has been decided that the speedtest would be upon mvitation and would be a nonchampionship event. In addition, group 5 cars have been barred from competing in the international rally and will not be awarded any championship points when they compete in the rest of the events.

At least one top competitor, Majdi Al Jallad, has formally announced that he will retire from the sport as a full time: competitor.

Jallad has maintained his top ten ranking during the past years and had made it a point to join all national events in addition to some regional rallies. He dropped from 4th to 6th in 1993 and has apparently decided to quit while he is

"I will retire from official competitions, but hope to still be part of the sport as an official or volunteer whenever I can," Jallad told the Jordan Times in a telephone inter-

Evidently fed up with the time, effort and fund auto sports require, Jallad seemed to blame the lack of sponsorsfor making auto sports fans think of quitting or not joining

"RACJ have obtained sponsors for their own purposes but have not done their share to encourage sponsors to back the drivers," he said, adding: "Some drivers do not have any kind of sponsor and depend on their own expertise and effort in car maintanence and rally expenses. That is why Jordanian drivers will always have limited achievement especially in the regional rallies where teams have powerful cars and fully equipped maintanence teams.

"I fail to see any incentives for most drivers to join this sport or continue to do so if they are now competing," he

Calendar of events

	National Rally	March 2
	Charity Rallytour	Аргіі
į	Jordan International Rally	May 11-1
	Rellytour
	Rallytour	July 2
	Invitation Speedtest (non-championship event)	Aug.
	Remman Hill Climb	Ang. 1
i	Rallylour	Sept. 1
	National Rally	Nov. 1
	National Rally	Dec. 1

Olympic medallist Lord Porritt dies

LONDON (R) - Lord Porritt, a former governor-general of New Zealand, distinguished surgeon and Olympic sprint medallist, has died at the age of 93. Arthur Porritt won the bronze medal for New Zealand in the 1924 Paris Olympics 100 metres final behind Briton Harold Abrahams and American Jackson Scholtz. The story of Abraham's victory and that of Scot Eric Liddel in the 400 metres were immortalised in the film Chariots of Fire. Porritt served a five-year term as governor-general of his native country and was surgeon to the British royal family for 35 years.

GLOVES FOR SALE for men and women

Tel.: 650827, Fax: 650827 Leather Gifts Centre

7-6.

EXTENSION OF TENDER INVITATION PERIOD

Tender No. 278/93 Cementing & Testing Services NRA announces to the interested firms the extension of closing date for the said tender up to Tuesday 2:00 p.m., Jan. 18, 1994.

Tel.: 634144

Natural Resources Authority

FOR SALE DUTY FREE CARS Renault 25, 1989

ver metallic, full options, $8,500. Automatic, aircondition, sil-Pontiac Lemans

"Daewoo" 1989 5 speed, aircondition, burgandy, 2000cc engine $5,500

All cars in excellent condition, and accident free. Please call 823789 after 11:00

Activities at Dolphin Dub Today and every Wednesday Sangria Day Rumours Restaurant Abdown Tels 822425

Today 1994

USED (DUTY FREE) VEHICLE MANTED

4 Wheel Drive ( land rover discovery , Mitsobishi pajero , Toyota land cruiser ) or similar . NOT OLDER THAN (1991) Jugine 2000 \ 2500 C.C Please Specify Milage & other details . send offers before 10 \1 \ 94 to : I . T .C project \ Mr. CIMINO p.o.Box (9800) Jebel Webdeh - Amman #### tract will come home. Tel.: 677420 Cinema T. CONCORD 0 CONCORD '1' ASSASSIN D Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 6:15, 8:30, 10:30 CONCORD "2" SOMMERSBY Y Shows: 12:30, 3:15, 5:15 Hi America Play, 8:30

Tel.: 699238 Cinema PLAZA Amr Diyab, Omar Sharif and Yusra

Renault 25/V6 autom. Year 1990.

For more information call:

Full options and in excellent condition.

Laughter, Play, Seriousness and Love (Arabic) Shows: 12:30, 3:15, 5:00, 6:30, 8:30, 10:30 p.m.

Demy Moore ... in THE BUTCHER'S WIFE Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 6:15, 8:30, 10:30 Special show for children on

PHILADELPHIA

Thu., Fri., Sat., Sun. at 11:00 a.m. NINJA DRAGONS

Tel.: 675571 Nabil Al Mashini Theatre

presents a play entitled: AL Ilm Nuron

A popular political comedy

Actors: Abeer Issa, Daoud Jalaiel, Hassan Al Shaer, Fuad Shomali in addition to other comedians Every night at 8:15 Tickets are sold all day

Nabil & Hisham's Tel.: 625155 AHLAN THEATRE

The political comedy

WELCOME ARAB SUMMIT

Daily 8:30 p.m. The theatre closes Saturday and Sunday English synopsis avaitable The Theatre will be closed from Dec. 24, 1993 until further notice.

categorical British and British and Pris that k rdis Nival

An and he stars a TSON IS SE need the Andersis during the court door most of 🏻 on his care for the son. Que S

ry

rdis Niverial actions of the scale action when it and's function without the spread the prince's said.

NEWS IN BRIEF

PLO representative in Riyadh dies

RIYADH (AP) — Subhi Abu Karesh, the Palestine Liberation Organisation's (PLO) representative to Saudi Arabia. died Tuesday of a brain clot. He was 58. Officials at Riyadh's military hospital said he had been in hospital for four months for treatment of brain cancer and died there at dawn. Mr. Abu Karesh is survived by a wife, three sons and three daughters. In Tunis, FLO officials said Mr. Abu Karesh was born in Gaza, he juited Fatch, the PLO's mainstream guerrilla movement in 1963. He fied with his family to Egypt when Israel seized Gaza and the West Bank in the 1967 war.

Israel to build new Tel Aviv airport

TEL AVIV (AFP) - Israel aims to build a new Tel Aviv airport to serve as a crossroads to Asia and Africa in a peaceful Middle East before the turn of the century, transport officials said Tuesday. The transport ministry said "Ben Gurion-2000." to be built in the shape of the star of David taken from the Israeli flag, would quadruple air traffic through Tel Aviv to a capacity of 16 million passengers per year. The government is to approve the project to replace the current terminal by 1998. at a cost of $850 million, within the next two weeks, it said.

Bhutto's brother refused parole

KARACHI (AFP) -- Murtaza Bhutto, jailed brother of Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto. was refused permission Wednesday to visit his father's grave in northern Larkana. A special court rejected his plea for a parole. The judge decided his application had "no ment," court sources said. Murtaza had asked to be allowed to attend celebrations marking the 66th anniversary of the birth of his father Zuifikar Ali Bhutto, who was hanged by the military authorities in 1979. Murtaza has been in jail since early November on charges of terrorism and subversion which carry the death penalty.

Israelis 'proud' to be Jewish --- poll

TEL AVIV (AFP) -- Nine out of every 10 Israelis are "proud or happy" to be Jewish and almost 70 per cent believe they are God's "chosen people" according to a poli published Tuesday. The Israel Institute of Applied Social Research found in a poll that 94 per cent felt proud of their Jewishness and 76 per cent were opposed to their children marrying gentiles. Some 68 per cent of 2,399 people questioned believed the Jews were chosen while 31 per cent had doubts or did not believe it. However, 77 per cent said they believed in God, 73 per cent were convinced Moses received the Ten Commandmants on Mount Sinai and 53 per cent believe the Messiah will come. More than nine out of 10 have their sons circumcised and 71 per cent refuse to eat food banned by Judaism, such as pork and scafood. Sixty-eight per cent believe Israel could not survive without the support of diaspora Jews, but more 50 per cent described themselves as "different" from Jews living abroad. The poll also found that 59 per cent had a negative or very negative "attitude" towards Arabs, over 41 per cent who responded positively.

India, UAE to discuss extradition treaty

NEW DELHI (AFP) - Experts from India and the United Arab Emirates will meet soon in Abu Dhabi to discuss a comprehensive extradition treaty, officials said here Tuesday. The proposed treaty is crucial for India, which has been seeking the deportation from the UAE of gangsters suspected of involvement in last year's Bombay bomb blasts. The suspects include Dawoud Ibrahim, who is accused of running an organised crime syndicate in Bombay from a safe haven in Dubai. Officials attending a three-day joint commission conference which began here Tuesday said technical experts will meet soon in Abu Dhabi to scrutinise draft extradition treaties and hammer out an agreement.

Japan envisions bridge link to Russia

TOKYO (AFP) - A Japanese transport firm has drawn up plans to build a spectacular pair of bridges that would link Japan with Russia — a mammoth project that would take 10 years to complete. Takashi Miyamoto, president of Jeuro Container Transport Inc., said a first bridge, 43 kilometres long, would link Japan's northern island of Hokkaido with Russian-heki Sakhalin Island. A second, seven-kilometre span would extend from Sakhalin to the Russian mainland, Mr. Mivamoto to Tokyo's mainichi newspaper in a report that appeared Tuesday. Mr. Mivamoto said his Yokohama-based company has already held preliminary technical talks on the road-and-rail venture - budgeted at 7.5 billion yen ($66 billion) - with Russia's railways ministry. Though the cost would be high, the benefits would be enormous and would give Japan a sure link to Russia's natural gas resources.

Hurd calls for quick return to self-rule talks

TEL AVIV (Agencies) -British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd underlined Tuesday the urgency of resuming the stalled Israel-Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) negotiations on Palestinian autonomy and warned public confidence would be

"I think it's important to keep up the impetus." Mr. Hurd told a press conference after meetings with Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, Foreign Minister Shimon Peres and a delegation of Palestinian leaders.

That's why I hope that discussions on the points which are difficult will start again as soon as possible.

"Unless people here in Israel and the occupied territories can see there is actual progress they will lose trust in the whole process," he warned.

Israel has refused to resume negotiations in Egypt on how to implement the September 18 autonomy deal unless the Palestinians accept as the starting point a draft document drawn up last Wednesday. However, Mr. Hurd voiced optimism on a successful implementation of the self-rule

Those concerned have an instinct to move forward rather than back. Therefore I hope and believe that those concerned will find a way forward," Mr. Hurd said.

Britain was not playing an intermediary role, the foreign secretary said but he offered help for the peace process if needed.

"Anything we can do to help it forward whether by technical assistance... or whether by encouraging those taking part in the negotiations we will gladly

Mr. Hurd, who arrived overnight from Beirut for a 48-hour trip, said: "I wouldn't see myself in any kind of role of intermediary. Maybe, from time to time, we can facilitate understandings."

The secretary said he would announce new British assistance to the Palestinians during a visit to the Gaza Strip on Wednesday when he also meets President Ezer Weizman before heading for Amman. Britain is also offering to train Palestinian police commanders, as well as help organise elections and set up a

Toll tops 100 from Venezuelan jail riot

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (Agencies) — Officials pulled the charred bodies of mutilated inmates from burned-out cellblocks Tuesday, and prisoners shouled the names of those slain in Venezuela's worst prison riot to relatives outside.

The confirmed death toll rose to 103 Tuesday, according to Colonel Aldo Boccone of the national guard unit that quelled Monday's riot in this western oil city. "It's the worst slaughter I've ever seen," Mr. Boccone said.

"It's barbaric."

At least 45 inmates were wounded in the melee, which an official said started when Indian prisoners at the Maracaibo national jail retaliated against non-Indians for several killings last week.

Frenzied fighting with guns and homemade knives ended after several hours when two cellblocks were set affre and hundreds of national guardsmen stormed the prison, located about 700 kilometres west of the capital, Caracas. Many corpses were so badly burned that only 54 had been identified by Tuesday moruing, according to Maracaibo criminal court Judge Salvador Cubillan. Some had been mutilated. All of the dead were believed to be inmates. officials said.

prisoners attacked others." pathologist Nelson Bonilla said. "They mutilated them, butchered them with knives lynched them, cut their heads off... some of the remains are only fragments."
"We fear there are more cadavers in the tunnels and water tanks," judge Cubillan told reporters. "We have identified 54. It is difficult to identify the rest because they are disfigured. Others are simply charred pieces of meat."

Frantic civilians waited outside the packed morgue and prison on the outskirts of the city for news about whether their family members were among the dead.

In six months alone last year. 26 inmates were killed and another 72 were injured at the prison. Officials regularly seize knives and firearms from immates.

The justice minister, Fermin Marmol Leon, was scheduled to fly to Maracaibo from Caracas, to investigate.

Fighting first broke out Sunday while families were meeting with prisoners, and one of inmates was shot to death.

Authorities said the prisoners were fighting amongst themselves for control inside the facility, and inmates themselves set the fires in three cellblocks, said patrol chief Eduardo Villalobos.

would be no mutual cessation

of hostilities between APLA

and the South African government until a United Nations peacekeeping force had been-

could not be evacuated. Thousands of refugees. laden with belongings were

Mr. Rabbani arrested 15 of Gen. Dostum's soldiers Tuesof moderate factions in the coalition government was also day, including three generals.

"When we were arrested there was heavy shelling and a lot of firing," said Gen. Burat Ali as he was led away by main rivals, Prime Minister Gulbuddin Hekmatyar and Rashid Dostum, a former army

A young l'alestitian girl posses wrecked cars used as barricades during a general strike

Doctors appeal for drugs

as Afghan rivals fight on general.

Tuesday in the occupied Gaza Strip (AFP photo)

KABUL (Agencies) - Doctors in the Afghan capital appealed for medicine and blood Tuesday to treat 1,700

people wounded in four days of fighting among rival fac-and blood. We don't even have enough food to feed the patients." said Zafar, a Health

Ministry official. Like most

Afghans, he uses only one

In Jamhouriat hospital, one of Kabul's largest, dozens of children with shrappel wounds

lay bleeding in corridors and on makeshift stretchers.

Since New Year's Day,

lighters have attacked the city

with rockets and long-range missiles in some of the heaviest fighting since they ousted the communist regime in 1992 and turned their guns on each

At least 80 people have been killed. Dr. Zafar said the toll was probably much higher because most people bury their dead immediately in line with President Burhanuddin Rab-

bani's Jamiat-Islami party holds most strategic sites in Muslim tradition.

'We are short of medicine

government soldiers. Earlier Tuesday, rockets pounded the capital at a peak rate of six per minute.

Witnesses said the worst fighting was in the south eastern Microryan district where Gen. Dostum's fighters were surrounded by the government

"The situation in the district is terrible - there is no water, no electricity, while the closure of bakeries for the past four days has left an extreme shortage of bread," a resident there

"Many wounded lost their lives due to lack of medicines. bandages and plasma," the resident said, and casualties fleeing the south of the city for safer havens in the quieter north and northwestern subing in the basement of the main military hospital. The Iranian embassy offered to negotiate a peace settlement, and a mission of leaders trying to mediate an end to the bloody battles.

"We can accept a whole kind of peace settlement for the people of Afghanistan," Minister of National Security General Fahim said.

Huge columns of black smoke towered above Bala Hissar and the airport, where Mr. Rabbani's men were trying to mop up pockets of resist-ance in their battle for control of Gen. Dostum's main lifeline

The front line along the main runway of the airport, held by Gen. Dostum's forces since the ex-communist general defected to the guerrillas, toppling the former communist government in April 1992, he

The fighting had intensified in the northern city of Mazare-Sharif that is Dostum's base, and Gen. Fahim said forces loyal to Mr. Rabbani bad taken the airport. One hospital alone reported 70 injured by Monday in Mazar-e-Sharif.

day, Foreign Secretary Doug-las Hurd said that the expulsion of Sudan's ambassador was "the end of the episode as diplomatic exchanges on this," he said. "It was a necessary response to an unjustified act.

the appointment of a successor to Mr. Yassin and there were no plans to choose a replacement for Mr. Streams, the

Mr. Streams, who was holi-

Foreign Ministry statement

Archbishop Carey visited

Foreign Office said.

"I hope that is the end of Britain would not agree to far as we are concerned."

France to ban post-menopause

insemination

PARIS (R) — The French government will ask parliament to ban medical techniques being used to help women give birth past child-bearing age, Health Minister Philippe Douste-Blazy said Monday. A bill to be put to parliament "will state very clearly that medically-assisted procreation techniques, particularly in vitro insemination, will be re-served for women of childbearing age — that is, before meno-pause", he said. Mr. Douste-Blazy, a doctor, said helping women to bear children after menopause was dangerous both for the mother and the child. Controversy over the ethics of genetic engineering flared last month when a 59year-old British woman gave birth to twins following artificial insemination at a Rome

Gary overtakes Washington as murder capital

Liberation We

and talks seen cri

The of overdination

fai peace-mi

the on the O

strel delegation

des but it ap

where talks of work for futur

posponed are given to spe-disced urgent

10 sources in degation, led islomi, head of saio's political actions three

s empowered

Yasser Yasser

Senous and i

zions on all asso

istanian-Palesti

∞obip″as veil

come agreeme

ated out in No

sied mendor

ij leadershic.

the leadership

athe delegation

agreents of the srae

SRAEL AND ti

deration Or

(10) and Israei

ant stalled aut

2th Egiptian Re

f laba after agr

THE OWNER TO ST

intering, nego

l de regotiation

≥FLO agreed to

acesions on a di

the grown of a

The Palestinia

a reflected Est

व्यक्ति to be c

<sup>An</sup> braeli ne

3 the two sid

de docume

estimate will seems the poir

ge combroni

the to argue th

bed leaked after banet in the F

ten said the

GARY, Ind (R) - The mayor of this former steelmaking centre said Monday that a lethal combination of guns, drugs and unemployment had earned Gary the unenviable title of U.S. murder capital. "It's the result of too many guns, too many drugs and not enough jobs." Gary Mayor Thomas Barnes said at a news conference. Barnes also blamed a shortage of police for the lawlessness in this city of 120,000 just a few kilometres from Chicago. There were a record 110 murders committed in Gary last year, which computed to a nationwide high of 91 murders per 100,000 residents. That was slightly higher than the per capita homicide rate in Washington, D.C., which has held the title alongside Detroit in recent years. Riegal drug dealing and gunrunning have moved into Gary, whose once-vibrant steel industry is rusting while promises of riverboat gaming are still in the future. Mortician. Paul Robinson said his business is too good, and he has decided to do something about it. He makes appearances at local schools, bringing along a mock casket containing a mir-ror to allow schoolchildren to reflect on the potential victims of violence. "When you ask schoolkids how many knew a friend or relative who died a violent death, 90 per cent will raise their hands," Robinson

Barnes Collection draws record crowds

PARIS (AFP) — The Barnes Collection with masterpieces from Cezanne to Matisse which was on display for 100 days at the Musee D'Orsay here drew a record 1.5 million visitors, museum officials announced Monday. The previous blockbuster was the 1967 Tutankhamun Exhibition. Between Scpt. 8, 1993 and Jan. 2 when the exhibit closed an average 11,476 visitors were stunned by the 72 objects kept by the Barnes Foundation and shown for the first time outside Merion in the Philadelphia area. Washington and Tokyo will be the next stops for the treasures collected by Albert Barnes before he died in 1951 aged 79. A total 1,240,975 visitors had seen the mummy, gold sarcophagus and other treasures of King Tutankhamun's tomb during the six-month run of the 1967 exhibit. Barnes created his foundation in 1922 but strictly limited access to the collection.

1 out of 4 Japanese to be elderly by 2025

TOKYO (R) - Japan will have the oldest society of all the world's top economic powers by the year 2025, according to a government report issued Tuesday. It said 25.8 per cent of the population would be aged 65 or over. On a comparative scale using United Nations statistics, Germany would rank second with 23 per cent, followed by the United States with 20 per cent and Britain 19 per cent. Japan already ranks top in terms of life expectancy, the report said, with an average life spet for women of 82 years and 76 years for men. Public concern is growing about how the social welfare system will cope. according to the study.

Kabul, despite attacks by his Hundreds were shelter-Britain expels Sudanese envoy

LONDON (Agencies) - The Forcien Office Tuesday gave the Sudanese ambussador 14 days to leave Britain after Sudan refused to change its decision to expel the British enovy from Sudan. A Foreign Office spokesman said the decision to expel Ali Osman Yassin was an "inevitable consequence" of Sudan's decision to expel British Ambassador Peter Streams.

Sudan ordered Mr. Streams out of the country after archbishop of Canterbury George Carey refused to visit the capital, Khartman, as a goest of the government of President Other Hassan Al-

The government had invisted Archbishop Carey travel as its guest in the mainly Muslim northern Stalan. The eleme has said he cancelled the Khartoum leg of las trip because he was not awated freedom of Foreign office Minister Mark Lennox-Boyd summoned the Sudanese charge d'affaires, Abdul Rahman Bakit, to the Foreign Office Tuesday morning, said the Foreign Office spokesman.

Mr. Lennox-Boyd told the charge because of the totally inadequate response to our questions on Friday when we last had the Sudanese charge in ... because of that we had no alternative but to expel the Sudanese ambascador to London," the spokesman said. There are 17 diplomatic staff at Sudan's empassy in London. including the ambaisador. Britain has seven diplomatic staff. including Mr. Streams, in Khartoum. The Foreign Office spokesman said britain weeld continue to maintain its embassy. in Khartoem.

Speaking in Israel on Tues-

daying in England when Khartourn announced its decision. did "not serve the interests of the two countries," a Sudanuse southern Sugan last week at the instration of the Episcopal Church of Sudan, as the followers of the Anglican faith there call themselves.

Pakistani condition irks India

warned Tuesday that its plans to send peace proposals to arch-rival Paki tan would depend on Islamabad agreeing to hold negotiations within a certain time-frame.

Foreign Secretary Jyoundra North Dixit, in his first statement after returning Monday from Islamabad, said India's plans to send proposals to improve bilateral ties would depend on Pakistan's stand on future talks.

Pakistani Foreign Secretary Shaharyar Mohammad Khan's statement that further talks between diplomats of the two nations would hinge on the "ground situation" in India's troubled Kashmir state.

weeks we would send proposals on Sir Creek, and on redeployment, but now we will Khan's statement broadcast by Pakistan's state television after the toled talks

We will now watch the ground sinution before sending the proposals," the Indian diplomat stressed, The foreign secretaries of the two Asian rivals mer in Islamabad after a gap of 15 months for talks to end growing regional tensions stemming from their dispute on Kashmir, where Muslim militants are compaigning against Indian

The two days of bilateral negotiations on Kashmir ended Monday in a virtual deadlock as Pakistan India's call for a second round of official-level talks within four months. They do not want a timeframe. They just want to consult us on some issues," Mr. He said Pakistan, however, had agreed to study Indian proposals to end a row on the sharing of waters of the Jhelum River in Kashmir's Sir Creek region and the demilitarisation of the 5,400-metre-high Siachen glacier. Mr. Dixit said the two proposals were part of six confidence-huilding measures such as economic cooperation, disarmament and reduction of border tempers, India had been planting to send within "two, four and six vecks" to Pakis-"This, however, does not mean that we are resigned to the end of the bilteral process, It stops and starts but it will

The foreign secretary said Pakistani Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto sent a special plane to ferry him to Karachi for a meeting - "which I interpreted (as meaning) that she wants to keep the momentum of the bilateral process on.

was an encouraging input to the bilateral process even though the results (of the talks with Khan) were not satisfactory," the Indian foreign secretary added. India and Pakistan have fought two of their three wars

two-thirds of the frontier province where more than 7,000 people have died since 1989 when the secessionist campaign gained momentum. Isla-tends moral and diplomatic hacking to the guerrillas,

"Apparently, a group of Ultranationalists claim Cape Town pub attack

The internal commander of the Azanian People's Literation Army (APLA) has claimed responsibility for an armed attack on a South African pub here in which four people died, the daily Citizen reported

Thursday's attack, in which gunmen sprayed patrons with automatic gunfire, was claimed at the weekend by a man purporting to be an APLA member and, separately, by a caller saying he represented the underground Azanian National Liberation Army, but neither claim was authenticated.

APLA is the armed wing of the hardline Pan-Africanist Congress (PAC), which boasts the notorious slogan "One settler (white), one bullet." Police on Monday detained

MOSCOW (R) — Russian

ministers have begun moving to the White House ex-parlia-

two local PAC leaders for questioning about last week's raid but declined to say whether they blamed APLA.

PAC spokesman Anda Ntsodo told a news conference the artests were part of a government attempt to discredit the movement ahead of the first all-race election next April 27. The Ntsodo said the PAC was committed to taking part in the watershed election. Patricia de Lille,a member of the PAC's national executive, said the movement was observing a moratorium on violence pending further discussions with the government on a mutual cessation of hosti-

The Citizen said APLA commander Carl Zimbiri phoned the newspaper late Monday using a pre-arranged code and said APLA's clife the People's Concern unit had launched the attack and was ready to strike gain.

The People's Concern. Mr.

Zimbiri said. comprised APLA's best cadres and was also responsible for the July 25 massacre at St. James Church here in which 11 people were killed when ganmen fired on the congregation.

Mr. Zimbiri denied police carried in newspapers that the attackers had fied to the Transkei, where they were being protected by the tribal homeland's military ruler, General Banto Holomisa.

"They are not in Transkei." Mr. Zimbiri said. "That's propaganda, they are in the country, and they are ready to strike at any moment."
The API A leader said there deployed in the country. "Until then, we will double our efforts politically and militarily," he said. The PAC and the South African government on Dec. 3 declared a moratorium on violence, but talks are still continuing between APLA and the South African Defence Force on the suspension of armed action by APLA. The government said meanwhile that self-defence units aligned to the African National Congress (ANC) were out of control and virtually at war with one another in troubled townships east of Johannes-

Russian ministers move house as reshuffle looms Mr. Yeltsin says the White House was originally designed

> The new parliament, which under Russia's new constitution will have fewer powers than the last, will meet in a House in central Moscow. while the full-time lower chamber, the State Duma, will occupy the former Comecon building next to the White

NEW DELHI (AIP) - Indu-

Mr. Diret's reaction was to

"I said that in four to six have to see." Mr. Digit said of continue," Mr. Dixit said.

The meeting with Bhutto

on Kashmir since the partition of the subcontinent by British colonial rulers. Military tensions between the two archrivals over Kashmir have sent worries across South Asia. India holds the southern maked administers the northom third of the divided state. New Delhi accuses Pakistan of arming and training the militants in Kashmir, Islamabad denies the allegation but exman to the Particular of the P renovated office of Prime Minister Viktor Chernomyrdin was blessed by a Russian Orthodox priest.

fomenting disorder. The room was set on fire by ment building, shattered by tank shells in October, ahead of a government restuffle which could transform the course of economic reform. Three months to the day after President Boris Yeltsin's troops battered the former legislature into surrender, the

Bishop Arsent of Istra performed the ceremony in a fourth-floor office previously occupied by the Parliament Chairman Ruslan Khasbulatov, who is in jail on charges of tank shells on Oct. 4. But round-the-clock effots by 5.000 Russian and Turkish workers have restored the lower floors of the imposing 1970s building by the Moskva River.

Mr. Chernomyrdin was later meeting Mr. Yeltsin to discuss the fate of his reformist cabinet, following a stringing rebuff to radical ministers in elections on Dec. 12, Mr. Yeltsin promised there would be some changes in the government by Jan. 7. Mr. Chernomyrdin himself, an industry-centred bureaucrat, seems set to stay, but the newspaper Rossilskiye Vesti forecast before the new year holiday that arch-reformer Yegor Gaidar and other radicals would be demoted. Extreme nationalist Vladimir Zhirinovsky, who profited from the reformist debacle. said on Monday that Mr. Chercomyrdin and five or six minis-ers should go. Communists and other conservatives, who will form a big bloc in the new parliament. have also called for the "shock therapy" Mr. Gaidar launched two years ago to be abandoned,

The new legislature will hold its inaugural joint session next Tuesday, probably in the Kremlin. Party leaders have protested at Mr. Yeltsin's decision to hand the old parliament building over to the government. which is currently working out of cramped premises near the Kremlin which were once the headquarters of the Soviet House.

for a government headquarters and not a parliament. But the symbolic removal of parliament from the scene of his greatest political embarrassment must be an additional

The part-time Federation Council will gather in the Press